SHAMROCK TAKES RACE; MISHAP FORCES RESOLUTE TO QUIT

BOLSHEVIKI AGREE TO AN ARMISTICE WITH POLES

All Conditions Laid Down in Note by Premier Lloyd George Accepted by Moscow Government, Dispatches From Spa to Paris Newspaper State.

COMMONS GETS TEXT OF PROPOSAL

Move Includes Sending of Envoys by Warring Elements to London to Discuss Final Peace Terms With Approval of the Allies

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, July 15.—All conditions laid down in the note sent to Moscow by Premier Lloyd George relative to an armistice with Poland have been accepted by the Russian Bolshevik Government, according to a Spa dispatch to the Matin.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 15.—The note of the British Government to Soviet Russia agreeing to continue negotiations for a resumption of trade relations and proposing an armistice between Soviet Russia and Poland, and also between the Soviet forces and Gen. Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik commander in the Crimea, was read in the House of Commons yesterday by Andrew Bonar Law, the Government spokesman.

The note takes cognizance of the acceptance by the Russia Soviet Government of the principles laid down in the British memorandum of July 1, and of the basis of agreement for resumption of trade relations and the cessation of hostilities, and agrees to a resumption of negotiations for definite trade relations as soon as the Russian delegates return to England. Then, proposing an armistice with Poland, the note said:

"On the other hand the armistice should provide that the army of Soviet Russia should stand at a distance of 50 kilometers east of this line. In Eastern Galicia each army will stand on the line they occupy at the date of the signature of the armistice. That as soon as possible there, after a conference sitting under the auspices of the peace conference shall assemble in London, to be attended by representatives of Soviet Russia, Poland, Lithuania, Letvia and Finland, with the object of negotiating a final peace between Russia and its neighboring states. Representatives of Eastern Galicia also would be invited to London to state their case.

No Restrictions on Envoys.

"For the purpose of this conference Great Britain will place no restrictions on the representatives which Russia may nominate: Provided they undertake while in Great Britain not to interfere in politics or the internal affairs of the British empire or in propaganda."

The note said the armistice with Gen. Wrangel should be on the basis that Wrangel retire immediately to the Crimea and that during the armistice this must be a neutral zone. Wrangel would be invited to London to discuss the future of his troops and of the refugees under his protection, but would not be a member of the conference.

"If, therefore, Soviet Russia, despite its repeated declarations, will not be content with the withdrawal of the Polish army on the condition of a mutual armistice, but intends to take action hostile to Poland in Poland's own territory, the British Government and its allies will feel bound to assist the Polish nation to defend its existence with all means at their disposal," the note continued.

"The Polish Government has declared its willingness to make a peace with Soviet Russia and to negotiate for an armistice on the basis set out above directly it is informed that the Soviet Government also agrees.

Definite Reply Requested.

"The British Government would therefore be glad to receive a definite reply within a week as to whether Soviet Russia is prepared to accept the British Government's proposals to put an end to further unnecessary bloodshed and restore peace to Europe."

Bonar Law, replying to a ques-

FOUR PLANES START ON TRIP FROM LONG ISLAND TO ALASKA

9000-Mile Flight to Nome and Back Is One of Most Difficult Air Feats Ever Attempted.

By the Associated Press.

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 15.—Four army airplanes, comprising the Alaskan flying expedition, left Mitchell Field, Long Island, at 12:33 o'clock this afternoon, on a 9000-mile round trip flight to Nome, Alaska—one of the longest and most difficult air trips ever attempted in the Western Hemisphere.

The planes were "tuned up" and inspected yesterday after a week's careful grooming. With the placing of emergency rations and water bottles on board, officers said the expedition was "ready for the gun."

The expedition is commanded by Capt. St. Claire Street.

Each plane carries an army pilot and a mechanician observer. Army photographers will travel in two of the planes.

The expedition was started on its historic flight by Brigadier-General William Mitchell, director of the army air service operations.

White weather conditions were not ideal for flying the pilots were assured by the Government Weather Bureau that general weather conditions for the first 350-mile leg to Erie, Pa., would be good.

The expedition, headed by Capt. St. Clair Street, United States air service, is expected to make the pioneer trip to Nome and return in approximately 45 days.

On reaching its Alaskan destination the expedition will fly 100 miles to Cape Prince of Wales, which will bring it within 50 miles of the continent of Asia.

The flight is to blaze the way for an aerial route to the Northwest corner of the American continent, according to army air service officials, for possible military use and conducting of an aerial survey of former inaccessible areas in Alaska. Data for the establishment of an air mail route to Alaska will also be obtained, as well as information valuable for the development of commercial air routes into the Far North.

Before the machines "took off" Capt. Street was handed messages of congratulation to carry to Explorer Roald Amundsen, who is expected to arrive at Nome early in August by way of the northeast passage, having circumnavigated the globe "north of 63." The messages were from Vilhjalmur Stefansson, president of the Explorers' Club of New York; Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History, an dofficials of the Norwegian Government.

Machines Are De Havilands.

The machines used for the expedition are De Haviland 4B's, a development of the D. H.-4 used overseas and in the transcontinental flight. The most important change in their construction is the removal from between the pilot's seats forward of the gasoline tank, eliminating the danger of its crushing the pilot in the front seat against the engine in event of a crash.

Each plane left with 117 gallons of gasoline and 12 gallons of oil. The flyers were equipped with rifles, pistols ammunition and other equipment necessary to kill and cook wild game, if forced to make landings in remote parts of the wild territory.

Sixteen stops are provided in the itinerary, the longest being 350 miles, from Mitchel Field to Erieznpa, and the shortest 200 miles, from Edmonton, Alberta, to Jasper, Alberta.

Besides duplicate photographing of all sections of the route hitherto untraversed by airplanes, a record will be kept of all landing fields and emergency landing fields and level terrain flown over.

DECEMBER WHEAT $2.73 WHEN FUTURES TRADING BEGINS

Practice Resumed on Merchants' Exchange After Being Under Ban Three Years.

Trading in wheat futures was resumed on the Merchants' Exchange today after a lapse of nearly three years. The war-time food control act, which became effective Aug. 25, 1917, and under which option trading was not possible, expired June 1, last.

The first sale of December wheat was made at $2.73. Trading for the present will be limited to December and March deliveries.

Trading in futures also was begun at Chicago, Kansas City and Minneapolis today.

Wheat for December Delivery $2.72 at Chicago.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Prices started lower than expected today for future deliveries of wheat, the first of such prices quoted in nearly three years. December delivery opened at $2.72 to $2.75. Estimates by traders before hand were that the initial figures would be about $2.80.

FIRST CHIMPANZEE BORN IN U. S.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Susette, formerly a chimpanzee actress, now an inmate in the Bronx Zoological Gardens, today is the fond mother of the first infant of the species ever born in the United States, and the second ever born in captivity. After Boma, the proud father of the primal household, was induced late last night to cease his hysterical yelping in celebration of the event, physicians in charge reported today that both mother and child were resting peacefully.

600 ELECTRICIANS ENGAGED IN WIRING NEW BUILDINGS STRIKE

Workers Get Increase From $1 to $1.25 an Hour but Disagree Over Conditions.

Six hundred members of the local branch of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, comprising all men engaged in inside electrical wiring on buildings in course of construction, went on strike today, following the failure of the employing contractors to sign the 1920-1921 contract which was to have become effective this morning.

The question of wages is not involved in the strike, the contractors having agreed to pay the new scale demanded by the men, which provides $1.25 an hour for workers instead of the former wage of $1 an hour, and $1.37½ an hour for foremen instead of $1.12, which they formerly received. The disagreement is over working conditions.

J. T. Farrell, business representative of the union, said that the dispute was being considered by a board of arbitration, consisting of representatives of the employers and employes, and that he believed an amicable agreement would be reached during the afternoon, in which event, he said, the men will return to work tomorrow morning. Points under consideration, he added, merely pertained to jurisdictional rights of the union which the local, under the provisions of the international body's constitution, is bound to observe. Even were the local to waive its rights, he said, the international organization would veto the action.

TWO MEN ROB CLERK OF $10,000 AT DOOR OF BANK AND ESCAPE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 15.—Two bandits in a big touring car held up and robbed Frank Vassor, clerk in the State Bank at Armourdale, a suburb of Kansas City, of $10,000 shortly after noon today when he stepped from a street car in front of the bank.

The holdup took place at the door of the bank. H. H. Daniels, president of the bank, and Joseph Brady, an attorney, witnessed it. They gave chase in Brady's motor car, but were unable to overtake the bandits.

Vassor was returning from the Commercial National Bank with the grip of bills of various denominations when he was held up.

As Vassor alighted from the car, a large motor car pulled up and stopped. Two men, one of whom had two revolvers, jumped out. Vassor was told to put up his hands. One of the bandits then picked up the bag Vassor had dropped, tossed it into the car and the two sped away.

Daniels and Brady rushed from the bank without hats or coats and entered Brady's car to take up the pursuit. They had no weapons and on that account did not follow the car as close as they could have, Brady said. The car was soon lost in the street traffic.

LARKIN BEQUEST TO RANKEN SCHOOL MAY TOTAL MILLION

Shares of Stock in National Ammonia Co., Estimated at Double Par Value by One of Executors.

RESIDUE OF ESTATE AMOUNTS TO $577,692

Manufacturer Was Close Friend of David Ranken Jr., Who Founded the Institution in 1907.

It appears that the bequest to the David Ranken Jr. School of Mechanical Trades, made in the will of Eli Hilles Larkin, vice president of the National Ammonia Co., who died last April, will approach $1,000,000, increasing the total endowment of the school, which is at 4420 Cook avenue, to approximately $4,000,000.

An inventory of Larkin's estate, filed in the Probate Court yesterday afternoon shows personal property valued at $909,692.68. In addition, the estate holds realty at 4967 Forest Park boulevard and a half interest in property at Main and St. George streets.

By the terms of Larkin's will the residue of his estate, after payment of specific bequests to relatives, hospitals and charitable institutions, totaling $332,000, is to go to the Ranken School. Subtracting these specific bequests from the inventory valuation, $909,692, it would appear that the residue for the Ranken School would be $577,692. However, it is specifically provided in the will that stock of a par value of $372,700 in the National Ammonia Co. shall go to the school. Charles Cummings Collins, one of the executors of the estate, stated to the Post-Dispatch today that he believed the actual value of Larkin's ammonia company stock was double its par value, or between $600,000 and $700,000. If such value may be reckoned, then the residue for the Ranken School will be at least $794,992.

Announced at Graduation.

Lewis Gustafson, superintendent of the school, at the annual graduation exercises last night, expressed his belief that the school's endowment from the Larkin estate would reach $1,000,000.

In his will, made last March 29, Larkin expressed a preference as to how his bequest was to be used, but stated that his preference should not be binding upon the trustees to the detriment of their view of the best interest of the school.

He expressed a desire that some of the money be used for instruction in power plant operation, refrigeration, heating and ventilating, and similar subjects. He desired, he said, the establishment of a lecture course for men and boys desiring to engage in mechanical or manual trades or occupations, and suggested that gifts or loans be made to those who may otherwise be unable to pursue work in the school. He also asked that some of the money be used in the development of the school's branch at Rich Farm, St. Louis County.

Was Friend of Ranken.

Gustafson said today that Larkin was a close friend of David Ranken Jr., whose gift of approximately $3,000,000 established the school in 1907 and has provided for its maintenance. He said that Larkin became interested in the school about seven years ago, and thereafter became a frequent visitor, often bringing out-of-town friends and relatives to see it. He gave a refrigerating plant, motion picture machine, phonograph and other things to the school before his death.

Gustafson said today that the chief need of the school at this time is a new building to expand the machine and automobile shops, but that no building likely would be done until costs recede.

Inventory of Estate.

The inventory of Larkin's estate showed $59,500 in Liberty Bonds and the following other items: Notes, $31,224.12; stocks, $571,500; bonds, $288,100; miscellaneous, $7600; cash, $7703, and chattels, $3564.75. Among the stocks listed were $52,000 American Telegraph and Telephone Co.; $20,000 Certain-teed Products Corporation, and $54,000 Laclede Gas Light Co.

Other bequests of Larkin were $100,000 to the St. Louis Children's Hospital, 500 South King's highway, and a total of $93,000 to 13 other hospitals and charitable institutions. His bequests to relatives totaled $139,000.

SEVEN HAT FIRMS TO COLLECT $8250 STRIKE DAMAGES

Claims Against Union Because of Walkout Last Winter Are Adjusted Out of Court.

STIPULATION IN CASE FILED TODAY

Agreement Calls for Payment of Amount in 3 Monthly Installments of $2500, One Being Acknowledged.

Stipulations showing that claims of seven St. Louis hat and cap manufacturers against the United Cloth Hat and Cap Makers' Union and local unions of that organiaztion, by reason of a strike last winter of their members employed by those manufacturers, had been settled for $8250, were filed in Federal Court today by Walter H. Saunders, attorney for the Langenberg Hat Co. and the six other firms.

Saunders said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the damage caused by the strikers resulted from interference with the business of the hat companies and from cutting down the working forces of the companies so that they were unable to fill and ship orders.

The stipulations were filed in connection with suits brought by seven St. Louis hat companies against three locals of the Hat and Cap Makers' Union to restrain officers and members of the unions from illegal picketing of the companies' factories and stores. Judge Faris granted a perpetual injunction against this picketing.

The petition for the injunction asserted that "more than $3000 damage had been caused by the strikers. The president of one hat company testified that the damage done to his company was at least $10,000. Other damage claims were not specifically stated in court, but were left to a special commissioner for adjustment.

Saunders stated in court that the $8250 damages is to be paid in three monthly installments, the first, $2500, already having been paid.

At the time Judge Faris granted the injunction he appointed Irvine Mitchell master in chancery to hear testimony and decide what damages, if any, were due to the manufacturers. He had held no hearings, however, and the settlement reached out of court will render them unnecessary.

C. J. Anderson, attorney for the strikers, could not be reached for a statement as to the settlement.

SHORT CIRCUIT SETS OFF BANK'S BURGLAR SIREN

Alarm Brings Patrols Filled With Policemen to Grand Avenue and Olive Street.

There was considerable commotion in the vicinity of Grand avenue and Olive street last night when the burglar alarm siren at the Vandeventer Trust Co., 3565 Olive street, sounded twice within 20 minutes, due to a short circuit in the wiring.

The first alarm was at 8:30 o'clock. Patrol wagons from the Laclede avenue and Dayton street stations, filled with policemen, were hurried to the bank. When they got there they found several hundred persons gathered outside. Harry Abel, 7229 Arsenal street, assistant cashier, who was working with other employes in the bank, were trying to find what was causing the siren to sound.

The police and Abel eventually succeeded in silencing it. At 8:50 the alarm sounded and again the police came in patrol wagons. After hunting for the short circuit, they decided to shut off the siren entirely. Electricians this morning found the short circuit and repaired it.

THORNS FATAL TO ONE OF TWO BAREFOOT BOYS

Two barefoot boys of Madison County stepped on thorns a few days ago. One did not receive timely attention and yesterday he died. Anti-tetanus serum was used on the other and he apparently will recover.

Elmer, 6-year-old son of Herman Renken of Bethalto, is the one whose injury did not receive attention until too late. His jaws became set Tuesday and he died yesterday.

Wallace, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blackburn of Edwardsville, contracted lockjaw, but the serum was promptly administered and although he has had convulsions for several days, physicians state that he probably will recover.

$1,000,000 OFFERED FOR HEAD OF MAN POSING AS THE CZAR

Bolsheviki Trying to Get Hold of Claimant, Who Is in Siberia.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 15.—The Soviet Government is offering a reward of 2,000,000 rubles (normally $1,000,000) for the head of a man claiming to be Czar Nicholas II of Russia, according to information received here today.

The advices say the claimant, who is in Siberia, has raised a considerable following. In accounting for his escape from the hands of the Bolsheviki, he asserts it was a servant impersonating the Czar who was killed at Yekaterinburg, where the Czar and his family are understood to have been executed.

POLICE CHIEF ORDERS ALL AUTO WATCHERS "SUPPRESSED"

Complaints of Damage to Machines Lead to Order to District Captains.

A police order was issued today against "self-appointed watchers of automobiles," who station themselves in front of the baseball park, theaters and other places of amusement to "guard" automobiles in return for tips.

There have been many complaints from automobile owners who say their machines have been damaged by these watchers when they refused to employ them. Reports of punctured tires, motors tampered with, and scratched enamel have been frequent. Many of the theaters and cafes employ a man to watch the machines, but other men and boys volunteer to "assist" them, and collect tips.

The volunteers will be "immediately suppressed," according to the order to the district Captains. "You will see that they are stopped and stay stopped," the order ends.

DEFENDER 7 MINUTES AHEAD AT TURN; THROAT HALYARDS PARTED

Lipton Sloop Then Slipped Past the American and Captured the Opening Contest.

AMERICANS OUTJOCKEYED CHALLENGER AT START

First Contest of International Race Had a Six-Knot Breeze, a Calm Sea, and Hot, Humid Day—Frequent Rain Squalls and Mist Obscured Racers.

By the Associated Press.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 15.—Shamrock IV, British challenger for the America's Cup, today won the first race of the 1920 regatta, sailing across the finish line at 4:25, unofficial time, after the Resolute had been withdrawn because of a mishap to her rigging.

A great fleet of excursion boats steamed along on both sides of Lipton's cup yacht to give her welcome as she sailed over the finish line a winner. Far astern and withdrawn from the race came the Resolute in tow of a tug.

Parting of the throat halyards on the Resolute resulted in her being withdrawn after beating Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger to the turning mark in a 25-mile race. Giving the American sloop a wide berth, the Irish baronet's pride swept on toward the finish, while the defender was taken in tow by her steam tender.

Resolute's mishap came in dramatic manner as the two great sloops, after making their way through electrical storm and torrential cloudburst, were bearing down on the turning mark, a few miles off Ashbuy Park, N. J.

From the start until her halyards parted, the American boat had easily the upper hand and it seemed as if only a falling wind keeping her out beyond the time limit could prevent her from taking today's honors in handy fashion.

Getting away in smart fashion, from the Ambrose Channel light ship, where the Lipton sloop made the blunder of being on the line at the starting signal, forcing her recrossing, the defender increased her lead steadily on the 15-mile beat to windward, which comprised the first leg of the race. Her crew handled their head sails with greater skill and speed, and she seemed to have the advantage on tacks.

Throat Halyards Snapped.

Leading by half a mile, Resolute's crew prepared to round the mark when, without warning, her throat halyards snapped. Down slid the gaff until it reached almost the middle of her mast. Like a duck wounded in one wing, she kept gamely on round the mark while her Yankee skipper sent two men aloft to repair the damage.

The British sloop picked up her heels at the mark and three minutes after the turn had been made, slipped alongside and then passed her crippled foe. Captain Purton, sailing for the Irish Baronet, made a wide sweep in passing the defender to preclude any opportunity of coming afoul of her.

Once past her, Shamrock IV apparently made no great effort for speed on to the finish line, although it was expected her spinnaker would be broken out immediately, there were no signs of this as the run for home began.

Resolute's broken halyards can easily be repaired and the two yachts will sail the second race over the triangular course on Saturday, according to a wireless message from the official press boat late today.

In the event that the Resolute cannot complete her repairs Saturday in time for the next race, committees representing the two clubs shall determine what time she shall be allowed to take to make her shipshape again; but such time is not to exceed four weeks.

Similar Accident in 1899.

A somewhat similar accident caused Sir Thomas Lipton to withdraw his first Shamrock in the regatta of 1899. In the second race of that series with Columbia defending the cup and Shamrock in the challenging role, the British craft carried away her topmast and was withdrawn as was Resolute today.

Columbia continued on and completed the race, which was a 10-mile triangular contest, and was credited with a victory. As Columbia won the first race and the third without difficulty the Irish Baronet's initial attempt to lift the cup failed.

There have been but three times when both competing yachts did not finish out the race. In the final contest of the 1895 series Valkyrie III withdrew immediately after crossing the line because of Lord Dunraven's dissatisfaction with racing conditions. The second withdrawal was that of Oct. 17, 1899, when Shamrock I lost her topmast, and the third that of Sept. 3, 1893, when Shamrock III did not complete the final race of the series because she lost the finish line in the fog.

Day Hot and Humid.

The day broke hot and humid. The breeze was still holding directly out of the southwest at 9 o'clock at 10 knots and lumber hookers offshore stood along to the southward on the starboard tack making good time, which presaged a fast race for their lighter sisters, the cup yacht sloops.

Sailing conditions provided for a preparatory signal at 11:45, wind and weather permitting, with a warning signal ten minutes later. The starting signal was set for 12 o'clock, with a handicap time to be taken two minutes later.

Shamrock was the first to get up her mainsail. It was a fine piece of cloth and seemed visibly larger than Resolute's mainsail, which was hoisted shortly after.

The wind dropped out as the morning advanced and came in fitful puffs from the southwest about six knots in strength. Gray clouds came out from behind the Jersey headlands, screening the sun and giving threat of rain.

Resolute, disdaining a tow, broke out her headsails at 10:22 o'clock, cast off from her mooring buoy and headed away toward the Sandy Hook Spit, where she made a turn and headed away to the starting line.

A Light Off-Shore Wind.

Shamrock followed her within less than a minute, breaking out her headsails and standing away toward the starting line, a half mile or more astern of the American sloop. The wind was still light from the westward.

The Race Committee boat, the ocean tug Barrington, took her position at the starting line at 10:45 o'clock. She was soon followed by a line of excursion craft, crowded with passengers watching the sloops as they slid easily through the water to seaward.

The ocean was as smooth as a mill pond. Here and there large soft spots were observed, evidence of the fitful breeze that sometimes blew eight knots in strength and then fell away to an Irishman's hurricane, which is up and down the mainmast.

COAL TERMS OF THE ALLIES ACCEPTED BY THE GERMANS

Teutons Yield to Demand for Delivery of 2,000,000 Tons Monthly After Plain Talk by Lloyd George, but Tack on Several Conditions.

WANT DISTRIBUTION OF SILESIAN OUTPUT

Teutons Ask for Credit for Importing Additional Food; Hope for Generous Shipping Arrangements, in Note to the Allies.

By the Associated Press.

SPA, Belgium, July 15.—Premiers Lloyd-George and Millerand will see Dr. Walter Simons, the German Foreign Minister, at 7 o'clock this evening and hand him their reply on the coal question.

The reply, which was agreed upon this afternoon, is virtually an ultimatum and the Germans must reply "yes" or "No" by 11 o'clock tomorrow morning as to whether they will deliver 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly.

By the Associated Press.

SPA, July 15.—Germany today notified the allies that her Cabinet had agreed to the allied demands for the delivery of 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly, under three essential conditions and other minor conditions. She also stipulated that she must receive raw materials.

The German acceptance was embodied in a note which was laid before the allied Premiers this noon by Premier Lloyd George. The essential conditions named were these:

1. The German Government to have the distribution of the Silesian coal, or be allotted 1,500,000 tons monthly for Northern Germany instead of the present allotment of 1,200,000 tons.

2. A mixed commission to be sent to Essen to examine food and housing conditions.

3. Allies are asked to advance money or provide credit for importing additional food for the entire German population.

Foreign Minister Simons sent word to Premier Lloyd George before the allied representatives met today that Germany would accede to the allied demand and that a written note would be forwarded immediately. The Foreign Minister said he wished to prevent the allies from forwarding the proposed ultimatum to Germany.

Germany's "Utmost Limit."

Herr Simons said this morning at the German Ministry, in its decision on the coal question, had gone the utmost limit and could do nothing more, so that, if the allied military leaders, Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Wilson, still wanted an invasion of Germany they must have it. In a personal letter to Premier Lloyd George, the Foreign Minister, it is understood, set forth the German position in some detail.

In his letter Herr Simons recounted that he had been told yesterday by the British Premier that if he were a German statesman, he would take the risk of accepting the allied terms. The Foreign Minister had taken the risk, he said, and would have to take the consequences.

Help Asked of the Allies.

Knowing the attitude of Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand, however, he begged them to help Germany to fulfill her obligations by doing three things:

First, by allowing Germany the cash difference between the price of coal at the pit mouth in Germany and the price of coal on the world's market.

Second, by making a generous arrangement with regard to shipping.

Third, by giving Germany some security or assurance against the menace of invasion if she should at any time be a little behind in her deliveries.

Herr Simons added in his letter: "These are not conditions, but simply an expression of our hope."

Otto Hue, head of the German miners' organization, who presented statements regarding the German coal mining situation to the allied representatives in Spa during the early stages of the negotiations here, has been asked to return to Spa, and was expected to arrive during the day.

Taking up the German communication at once, the allied Prime Ministers discussed it for two hours and a quarter and then took recess until 4:30 p. m.

No announcement was made as to the allied attitude regarding the German conditions, but it was understood that the chief question was whether Germany should receive the difference in cash between the price of coal at the pit mouth in Germany and the world market price. The French delegates, it appeared, were unwilling to pay Germany what would amount to 80 francs a ton difference in the price between coal in Germany and that abroad.

Yesterday's Proceedings Marked by Gaiety.

Yesterday was a day of tense emotions among the delegates to the conference, though outwardly all calm. The day passed without official communication between the Germans and the allies except for an informal meeting between Premier Lloyd George and Dr. Simons, the German Foreign Secretary.

While the allied Premiers were meeting at Villa Fraineuse, the Germans held a series of Cabinet meetings at Chancellor Fehrenbach's villa, two miles distant. Efforts were made to resume contact. Dr. Simons asked Lloyd George to receive him, and the British Prime Minister consented after consulting with the French Premier, M. Millerand.

The German Secretary had an hour's plain talk with Lloyd George, who again told him frankly that the allies could go no further than they had already done in reducing the terms of coal delivery, namely, 2,000,000 tons monthly.

Impossible, Said Simons.

Dr. Simons repeated his contention that it was impossible for Germany to deliver the amount demanded.

After conferring with Lloyd George he said that what the allies were insisting upon "means for my country either civil war or invasion."

On his return to the Fehrenbach villa, the Foreign Secretary talked for a long time with the Chancellor, after which the Chancellor called a meeting of the Cabinet, with all the experts present. The meeting was described as extremely animated, with wide differences of opinion. Immediately afterwards the German Ministers deliberated for four hours.

At 10 o'clock last night the German Cabinet was holding its third meeting of the day. Dr. Simons, who was to have received the German press representatives in the evening, sent word that he had nothing to announce. One of the most influential of the German experts said the situation was grave and it looked as though the allies would occupy the Ruhr. It was said that if occupation of the Ruhr takes place it would be carried out by six divisions, three French, two British and one Belgian. Every military preparation had been made to this end.

Field Marshals Present.

Premier Millerand called on Premier Lloyd George about 10 o'clock and conversed a long time. M. Millerand had the French journalists to dinner but declined to discuss the situation. Official denial was made of a report than Dr. Simons had raised the German offer of coal in his talk with Premier Lloyd George to 1,800,000 tons monthly. Field Marshal Sir Henry H. Wilson, Chief of the Imperial British Staff, and Marshal French were also on the ground. All details had been arranged for the movement of troops.

The German delegation was to be requested to meet the allies at noon today. The Germans were to be asked if they would give 2,000,000 tons. If they replied in the negative, they were to be informed that the Ruhr would be occupied Friday.

The American Government was to have been asked by the Supreme Council to join in the occupation of the Ruhr unless the Germans acceded to the demand for 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly.

Germans' Conditions Make Allied Representatives Cautious.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, July 15.—Premier Millerand conferred with Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain last night on the German acceptance of the allied demand for 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly, says a Havas dispatch from Spa, which adds the German acceptance was so wrapped up with conditions as to "make it a subject for caution." Dr. Bonn, a member of the German delegation, informed Premier Lloyd George that the German representatives had yielded, the dispatch says.

"The German acceptance is not surrounded with too many reservations and counter demands and is being seriously considered," says Pertinax, political editor of the Echo de Paris. "The problem which confronts the allied ministers is this: What guarantees shall the allies require that Germany will carry out her engagements? Shall plans formed yesterday disappear altogether, or shall they remain suspended over Germany's head like the sword of Damocles?

"German delegates at Spa held another meeting last night to consider the result of Dr. Bonn's call on Mr. Lloyd George. The struggle between Konstantin Fehrenbach, head of the German delegation, and Dr. Simons, German Foreign Minister, and experts accompanying the German delegation is very sharp. Dr. Simons is credited with the following epigram during a discussion of the situation: 'With us, experts talk too much and diplomats talk too low.'" mittee hoisted the signal for a southwest by south course.

The excursion fleet clustered around the starting line but the haze was so thick that spectators on shore could not see the lightship and the sloops were lost to view within three miles of the starting line.

The breeze was scarcely strong enough to stir the flags carried by the racing craft. Resolute reached the start at 11:15, but Shamrock was nearly half an hour late.

Decision by the Race Committee on a course southwest by south, would carry the yachts from Ambrose lightship to a turning point a couple of miles off Asbury Park With the hoisting of the course signal, the mark boat, Aileen Morse, steamed away to set the turning mark—a white float carrying a red ball—off the proper position 15 miles away.

Thunderheads Appear.

At 11:45 the wind was still very light and out of the northwest thunderheads appeared, indicating a squall later on.

The yachts moved at fair speed in the mild air as they jockeyed for positions behind the starting line. The two sloops stood in shore on the port tack with Resolute to windward. They came about and stood upon the line. At 11:55 the warning signal was blown, and a white ball hoisted.

The yachts jockeyed about back of the starting line, each seeking the position of advantage as the preliminary signal was given, and promptly at 12 o'clock the starting signal was sounded.

Forging ahead on the starboard tack, the yachts carried mainsails, staysails, foresails and baby jib topsails.

Shamrock was over the line at the starting signal and her skipper, Capt. William P. Burton, had to recross. Meanwhile, Resolute slipped over in first place. Shamrock recrossed about 40 seconds after Resolute and immediately stood after the American boat 200 yards ahead.

According to yachtsmen, Shamrock's start was the worst ever made by a Lipton boat.

The official starting time given from the race committee's boat was: Resolute 12:00:40, Shamrock 12:01:38.

It also was announced officially that the time allowance would be 8 minutes and 40 seconds, due to a change in measuring the Shamrock's sails.

Three minutes after crossing, Resolute tacked to port and headed toward the Jersey shore, while the challenger stood seaward on the starboard tack.

Yachts in Rain Squall.

The advantage of the start lay distinctly with the American boat because of the faulty timing on the Lipton craft, which resulted in her crossing the line a few seconds before the starting signal. Shamrock at 12:05 was seemingly unable to catch Resolute. At 12:10 a rain squall drenched both yachts and nearly killed the breeze. Resolute pointed higher but Shamrock footed a trifle faster.

The rain squall hid the yachts from sight from shore a few minutes after the start. As the rain ceased falling the light southwestern breeze brought in a milky fog bank which completely concealed the course.

One downpour succeeded another, flattening out the sea so that it was as smooth as a mill pond. The yachts apparently were making poor time.

Vivid lightning flashed and the torrential rains drove passengers from the decks of excursion boats to the cabins below. At 1 o'clock rain was falling with the intensity of a cloudburst and visibility at sea was limited to a few cable lengths.

With the last downfall came a heavy squall of wind from the west, which caused the yachts to stagger in the sudden blow.

Resolute Half-Mile in Lead.

Resolute was more than half a mile in the lead at 1:05, and at 1:30 the sloops had covered six miles and were a mile and a half off Seabright, N. J. The American sloop slowly but steadily increased her lead at 1:43 p. m., when Shamrock went about on the port tack and headed inshore, while the Resolute continued on the starboard tack. It was nothing more than a drifting match, in which both skippers used reaching jibs to catch the uncertain air. After a short board to port Shamrock came about again on the starboard tack and followed in the wake of Resolute, which slid along a little faster than the challenger.

After having broken out their baby jib topsails, both skippers, in a hunt for a better breeze, took them in again and broke out larger topsails in their place. In the handling of the head sails, Resolute's crew showed to advantage over the sailors of the challenger.

The Resolute did not take in her baby jib until about 30 seconds later than the Shamrock had done so, but the American skipper was able to break out his larger jib topsail nearly a minute before the British crew could get theirs up.

After Two Hours of Sailing.

Resolute led Shamrock by half a mile after two hours of sailing, when the yachts had covered 10 miles of their 30-mile course.

Ten miles covered, the race was little more than a drifting match, with the advantage lying with the defender. This caused a surprise to yachtsmen, because of Shamrock's reputation as a ghost in light air. Boat for boat, the American footed faster than the challenger.

In passing Shrewsbury gas buoy, nine miles from the start and six from the turning mark, Resolute was four minutes and 35 seconds ahead. Both yachts passed within a half mile of the buoy with Shamrock a trifle to leeward. The tack taken by the Shamrock in shore cost her fully half a mile.

Off Long Beach the yachts encountered another rain squall and in the puffs of air they heeled over on their racing lines. The American still held a smart advantage over the Lipton craft.

Here and there on the flat sea were soft spots, but with the American out ahead she had an added advantage of picking up first every new puff of wind from the southwest. An ebb-tide gave the yachts a measurable list as they held along on the starboard tack parallel with the Jersey coast.

At 2:30 p. m. the yachts were making short tacks about four miles off Long Branch, with Resolute half a mile dead to windward. The breeze still came rather from the south, but it looked as if it would blow the racers over the course within the time limit. The marker boat was sighted three miles ahead.

Wind Increases Near Outer Mark.

The wind increased as the yachts neared the outer mark and Resolute held up to it better than Shamrock. At 2:15 p. m., on approaching Long Branch, Resolute was going fast, with a chance of reaching the mark, whereas it appeared as if Shamrock would have to make another tack.

Resolute was standing for the mark on the port tack when the throat halyards parted and the gaff came halfway down the mast. Skipper Adams kept on sailing.

When Resolute's rigging snapped she was leading by a half mile, but Shamrock was coming up very fast from off shore.

Resolute turned the outer mark at 2:02:34, headed back for the finish, a run of 8 1-5 miles, with her two head sails drawing, her club top sail swinging helpless. Her crew meanwhile made every effort to replace the broken rope. Turning the mark at 2:52:34, Shamrock passed the almost sailless Resolute at 3 o'clock. Shamrock overstood the mark and wore around with a wide berth as she slipped past her rival.

Resolute's tender took her in tow at 3:25 p. m. Shamrock kept on for the finish, and it looked as if she would take the race.

Resolute Favorite at 1 to 2, With Little Betting.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Never, perhaps, in the history of the races for the America's cup has there been so little betting as on the chances of Resolute and Shamrock IV. In other years betting commissioners in Wall street used to handle between $250,000 and $500,000 on the eve of the race, but it was estimated that less than $50,000 was wagered yesterday through the usual channels.

Resolute is still a strong favorite at 1 to 2, but should Shamrock win the first race today the odds will shift and the speculation become more brisk.

Sir Thomas Lipton Expresses Confidence in Shamrock and Crew.

ABOARD STEAM YACHT VICTORIA, July 15 (by wireless).—"If the good wishes I have received from all over the world in the last few days could insure success, the ambition of my life would be achieved," declared Sir Thomas Lipton today.

"On the eve of my fourth attempt to capture the America's cup I feel strongly that this time I have a boat that will prove the winner. Shamrock IV and her crew are in first-class fettle and everything possible has been done to bring her to the starting line a worthy representative of the old country."

Moscow Reports Soviet Forces Continue to Gain Against Poles.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 15.—Russian Bolshevik forces have forced their way across the Viliya River, in the province of Vilna, on the north, and have driven the Poles out of the city of Kamenetz-Podolsk, on the southern end of the Polish front, according to an official statement issued in Moscow yesterday and received here by wireless.

West of Molodetchno, northwest of Minsk, the Soviet forces are approaching the positions held by the German armies during the Polish campaign of 1916, the statement says. In the regions of Baranovitshi and Slutsk, south of Minsk, the Bolshevik advance continues successfully, it is declared.

Fierce resistance on the part of the Poles on the entire front between the Dubna and Dniester rivers is reported in the statement.

ELECTRICAL STRIKE IN CHICAGO TIES UP CAR SERVICE

Elevated Lines Not Affected by Walkout Which Follows Dispute Over Unionization of Shops.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Street car service in Chicago was almost entirely suspended early today when electrical workers in several repair shops were called out on strike following a dispute over unionization of some of the shops and failure to agree on wage increases demanded by some classes of the employes.

About 3000 men are affected by the strike, according to union leaders. William Fish, general manager of the street car lines, said an attempt would be made to continue operation of the cars on all lines, but admitted it would be difficult for the company to handle rush-hour traffic.

The elevated lines are not affected.

The strike of 192 men employed in power stations from which current is supplied to the car lines was the development which actually created the tieup in the lines.

The strike was voted about midnight last night at meetings of the men involved and was set for 5 o'clock this morning.

The strike came suddenly after the break in conferences between representatives of the company and the men that few knew of the situation until they started for work and found no surface cars moving. Thousands were delayed by the tieup, although the continued operation of the elevated lines afforded some relief.

Girl Killed in Auto Wreck.

A 14-year-old girl was killed and probably 50 persons injured in automobile accidents today which resulted from congestion caused by the strike.

The girl was killed when a motor truck carrying 40 persons to work crashed into a telegraph pole.

About half of the 32 power houses were closed by the strike, but the others are said by company officials to be running with nonunion men, for whom police protection has been asked. Street car officials said that 140 cars were running on the principal lines this morning and that more would be added through the day.

Suburban Service Crippled.

Suburban train service also was badly crippled through the strike, many railroad employes being unable to get to work. Operation of the elevated lines prevented a complete tieup of transportation in the early hours, when no surface cars were running, and enabled most of the business houses to operate about as usual.

Union officials said the men were demanding increases in pay of about 33 per cent. At noon today company officials said that cars were being operated into the business district and that they expected service would again be normal by tomorrow.

SOME MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE OF 48 THREATEN TO BOLT

J. A. H. Hopkins, National Chairman, Suggests Formation of Still Another Party at Conference.

DISCUSS NOMINATING OF LA FOLLETTE

P. P. Christensen Named for President, Max S. Hayes for Vice President by Farmer-Labor Element.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Members of the Committee of 48, bolting the Farmer and Labor party, voted this morning to stay in session all day to complete their work. No program or forecast of this work was announced.

At the time of this decision the conference had not assured itself of its status. J. A. H. Hopkins, chairman of the Committee of 48, presiding, told the delegates he could not answer w t the technical position of the committee was.

Apparently proceeding on the expectation that the committee preserved its entity, Chairman Hopkins proposed that it might either operate in a similar manner to the Nonpartisan League, indorsing candidates, or it might select a name, and, where the members of the committee chose, they could run their ticket under this name.

La Follette's Manager Speaks.

Senator La Follette's refusal of the Farmer-Labor party nomination was explained by Gilbert E. Roe, his former partner, who re, esented him at the convention. He said Senator La Follette had been put in an absurd position by not having a chance to see the platform and that he understood some things were going in it he did not approve.

"Here was the mistake," continued Roe. "Each side on the Conference Committees working on the platform did not try to see how much it could surrender to get on a common ground, but each tried to see how much of its own dogma and doctrine it could get the other side to adopt."

Chairman Hopkins interrupted Roe to urge the members of the Committee of 48 to stay through the day. Only by so doing could they accomplish intelligent results, he said. The committee voted to stay with a rising vote.

"You can never make a class party in this country and have it count for anything," said Roe, reaching what he characterized as the "fundamental mistake" of the Labor party people.

"You can never build up a Labor party successfully in this country as in Great Britain."

Referring to the Labor party attitude toward the "intellectuals" of the Committee of 48, Roe said, addressing himself to the Labor party people:

"Labor Leaders Intolerant."

"There isn't a more intoleront intellectual in this country than the labor leader is. You must understand you are not going to dictate to the intellectuals any more than the intellectuals are going to dictate to you."

After an hour or two of short speeches the 48-ers adjourned at 1:15 p. m. for one hour. The Procedure Committee will report thereafter.

Encouraged by Happenings.

"I've had great encouragement out of what has happened here in the last two days," Roe said. "We tried the experiment of getting middle-class people in touch with the labor class, and though it hasn't worked well, it hasn't worked badly.

"Labor is intolerant; the rest of us are intolerant. They swallowed up everybody else, because they had a plan and a group which worked together. That was inevitable. I don't see why we should fly off in opposite directions and go to fighting each other now. We belong together."

"The question of Senator La Follette's accepting the nomination was uppermost," Roe continued. "He wanted his friends to find out whether there was a common purpose, a condition that would make a real political party.

"He was asked to become a candidate finally upon a platform which contained some things of which he did not approve. As an honest, careful man, he could not accept, and I think even the Labor men will respect his stand."

Christensen Would Withdraw.

Christensen, the Fusion nominee for President, came back to the 48-ers and interrupted Roe.

"I was drafted for the Farmer-Labor party," he said. "You and I wanted Senator La Follette. Understand, if by any means you can now get him, I am not in your way."

There was a demonstration.

"I am not going to prove disloyal, untruthful, unfaithful, especially not to the workingmen who nominated me," Christensen declared. "If you can do anything to get them, count me out."

He then left the hall.

The Farmer-Labor party, born of a fusion of numerous political groups, today has a platform and has its candidates in the field for the coming election. Its work was completed at 4 o'clock this morning, when its convention, after an all-day-and-night session, chose Parley Parker Christensen, Salt Lake City, and Max S. Hayes, Cleveland, Labor, as its presidential and vice-presidential nominees.

J. A. H. Hopkins, national chairman of the 48-ers, addressed the Farmer-Labor meeting, after reports became prevalent that a bolt had been determined upon by him and his friends and denied that such an agreement had been reached. He avoided saying, however, that none was in contemplation, and, in statements issued for publication, criticised the dominant Labor group for its handling of the almalgamation, and declared a great opportunity had been missed.

Not all was harmony in the fusion convention during the hours the platform and candidates were under discussion. Heated debate developed also over the choice of a name for the newborn political group. The 48-ers carried their unsuccessful committee fight against the Socialistic doctrines of the radical Laborites to the floor. Pursuing the same tactics they used throughout the platform discussion, they attempted to force their wishes across through the use of Senator La Follette's name.

An embryo stampede, and a 45-minute demonstration for the Wisconsin Senator, resulted from the injection of this issue. But the well-laid plans were nullified by Labor leaders who blocked demands for an immediate consideration of a platform said to be satisfactory to La Follette, and which, it was claimed, had been concealed by "committee intrigue." The Laborites got their platform before the convention first and, although a minority report, drawn along the lines said to be acceptable to the Wisconsin Senator, was presented, the majority faction won.

"Boss-Ridden" Charge Made.

Rumblings heard behind the scenes for two days burst upon the convention during the heated platform discussions, with 48-ers charging the fusion party with being "boss-ridden by a clique." Secret diplomacy, they said, was at work.

G. J. France of Seattle, member of the Conference Platform Committee, revealed the inside story of what he said had transpired in the session of the Platform Committee Tuesday night. His version was challenged by Gilson Gardner, signer of the minority report, and still another account of the affair was offered by Robert M. Buck, sponsor of the majority platform. Amidst the uproar, when delegates in every corner of the hall were clamoring to speak, Gilbert E. Roe, La Follette's personal representative, sent in word that the Senator would not, under any circumstances, become the party nominee on the majority platform, adopted soon afterward.

Removal of La Follette as an anchor for the less radical of the 48-ers left them free to be shoved aside by the votes of the Laborites and the latter's control was never again seriously questioned. They held the reins and the 48-ers trailed along through the rest of the session, although once they tried to raise their voice in the proceedings and discourage adoption of the name "Farmer-Labor" as a party designation. They contended without success that the "white collar slaves" and Eastern liberals, both small merchants and professional men, would be driven away by what they described as a "class" name.

The appeals went unheeded and the title already approved by the labor and farmer groups went through with a whoop.

Assortment Provided.

With La Follette removed as a potential candidate for the presidential nomination, no well-organized boom was left. As a result, the delegates were soon provided with an assortment from which to choose. The list of names placed in nomination included, besides Christensen: Dudley Field Malone, New York; Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist nominee; Henry Ford, Detroit; Louis F. Post, Assistant Secretary of Labor; Gov. Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota; Jane Addams of Hull House, and several others. After one ballot the convention voted to eliminate all excepting Christensen and Maloney, the two leaders, and nomination came on the second ballot.

When vice-presidential candidates were called for, the convention was swamped with a list of more than 20, but name after name was withdrawn, either by the candidates in person or by friends, until only three were left—May S. Hayes, Carrie Chapman Catt, suffragist leader, and Lester Barlow, leader of the World War Veterans. Hayes received all excepting about a dozen votes, and nomination was then made unanimous, and at 4 o'clock the convention adjourned sine die.

Native of the West.

The new party's presidential nominee is a native of the West. He was born at Weston, Idaho, 49 years ago. From early life on a farm, Christensen, the eldest of five children, plugged away at an education until he was graduated in law at Cornell University. He since has spent most of his time in Salt Lake City.

Prior to 1912 Christensen was ranked as a "Dolliver" Republican, but pulled with the Bull Moose in that year. The death of that party set him adrift and, he said, he "sidled into a stall and voted for Wilson in 1916."

Digest of Platform Adopted By Labor - Farmer Party

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 15.

THE platform as adopted by the Labor-Farmer group and which was considered too radical by the 48-ers, contains nine planks, summarized as follows:

Americanization: Demands the right of free speech, amnesty for political prisoners, repeal of espionage, sedition and "criminal syndicalist" laws, referendum and recall for Federal Judges and equal suffrage for all.

Demands withdrawal of the United States from participation under the Versailles treaty in the reduction of conquered peoples to economic or political subjugation, recognition of the republic of Ireland and the "new Russian Government," abolition of secret treaties and withdrawal of the United States from the dictatorship we exercise over the Philippines, Cuba, Porto Rico, Guam and Hawaii." This section also pledges support to "a league of free peoples."

Demands democratic control of industries, laying down the "right of labor for an increasing share in the responsibilities and management of industry."

Calls for public ownership of all public utilities and natural resources and immediate repeal of the Esch-Cummins railroad law.

Laws for Farmers.

Demands favorable laws for farmers, establishment of public markets, extension of Federal farm loan system, organization of State and national services to guide applicants for farms, and farmers already on land, and promotion of farmers' benefit organizations which "actually will help."

Advocates Government economy to replace "extravagance that has run riot under the present administration," denouncing the system that "has created one war millionaire for every three American soldiers killed in France," demanding that war-acquired wealth be taxed so as to shift the tax burden from the poor, expressing opposition to consumption taxes and recommending steeply graduated income taxes for Federal revenue, and taxation of land values and sharply graduated inheritance taxes for State and local government.

Urges reduction of the cost of living by stabilization of currency, Federal control of meat-packing industry and enforcement of present laws against profiteers, "especially the big ones."

Favors "justice to soldiers of the world war as a matter of right and not of charity," recommending payment of a sum "sufficient to make their war pay not less than their peacetime earnings."

Labor's "Bill of Rights."

Labor's bill of rights, which includes declarations for:

The unqualified rights of all workers, including Government workers, to strike.

Freedom from compulsory arbitration.

Maximum standard eight-hour day and 44-hour week.

Old-age unemployment payments and workers' compensation to insure workers against accident and disease.

Abolition of employment of children under 16 years of age, complete and effective protection of women in industry, with equal pay for equal work, abolition of private employment detective agencies used against strikes and exclusion from interstate commerce of convict labor products.

Single Plank Platform of the Single Taxers.

CHICAGO, July 15.—The following platform of the Single Tax party was promulgated here last night:

"Full rental value of the land shall be collected by the Government instead of all taxes, and all buildings and other improvements on land, all industry, thrift and enterprise, all wages, salaries, incomes and every product of labor shall be entirely exempt from taxation."

ESCAPED CONVICT CAPTURED BY POSSE NEAR RAYTOWN, MO.

William Stender of St. Louis and Companion Taken After Stealing an Auto.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, July 15.—One of two men captured in a cornfield near Raytown, Mo., late yesterday, admitted to the Independence police today that he was William Stender, who escaped from the penitentiary at Jefferson City last month.

Stender, serving a 10-year sentence for highway robbery in St. Louis three years ago, obtained freedom when he and two other convicts, one of whom was Ora Lewis of St. Louis, serving a term for murder, boarded an empty car at the top of a steep incline, the night of June 12, released the brakes and the car crashed against a gate in the prison wall. The convicts were hurled several feet from the car, outside the gate. The other two were captured by the prison guards. Stender said today he rode beneath a freight car to St. Louis.

Stender and Gail McKay, 22 years old, were arrested by a posse of Raytown citizens, armed with shotguns. Stender and McKay several hours previously had held up William Clarke, driver of a "for hire" car, Clarke said. They took a small amount of money and the car from Clarke. Clarke walked to Raytown and told of the robbery.

Citizens entered an auto and started a search for the robbers. On a steep hill a mile east of Raytown the stolen car stuck in the mud and Stender and McKay abandoned it, fleeing to a nearby corn field. The posse sighted the fugitives running through the corn rows and the capture followed.

Boy Scouts to Go Into Camp.

The East St. Louis Boy Scouts are arranging to go into camp at Hidden Hand, on Fountain Creek, in Monroe County, on Aug. 14, to remain until Sept. 4. The camping place is on the farm of Fred Nobey, four miles from Waterloo, Ill.

Testifies Husband Told Her on Honeymoon He Had "Made a Mistake."

Mrs. Edna Methudy of 1722 Waverly place testified today in defense of the suit of Eugene R. Methudy, president of the Methudy Tire and Rubber Co., 3649 Lindell boulevard, to divorce her.

She declared that on the sixth day of their honeymoon, in 1916, he said to her that he had made a mistake, that he didn't love her and wanted to be rid of her, but that he couldn't take the necessary steps on their honeymoon because that would bring the disapproval of his relatives. She declared that it became a habit with him to tell her that she was in his way and that several times he would leave home or take her to the home of her uncle and aunt to be rid of her.

She testified that, nothwithstanding his attitude, she was very much in love with him, and that, from the day that he told her that he didn't love her, her one object was to gain his affection. She said that she studied his likes and dislikes and tried to humor him in them.

"I just wanted to sit and look at him and study his wants," she declared.

She said further that prior to her marriage she had not had instruction in housekeeping, but that after her marriage she took a special course in cooking and would prepare the food that he liked. He never voluntarily complimented her on her cooking, she said, his only compliments coming as agreement with the praises of his friends.

Sought Food He Liked.

Mrs. Methudy declared that she would go to market two or three times a week, seeking the things that he liked—a special brand of bacon that was obtainable only at the downtown market. She said he was fond of cherries and that she obtained cherries whenever she could.

In this connection she related later that she would stand under the cherry trees at the Midland Valley Country Club, knowing that her husband would take the "cherry tree" route, and hoping that he would ask her to play.

The witness declared that frequently on these occasions her husband would pass without speaking, and that on others he would suggest that she play with someone else.

She heard her husband say to friends at the club, she testified, that she was only his wife, and that it wasn't his duty to look after her. She quoted him as saying: "Men who play golf with their wives and pay too close attention to their wives are mollycoddles and fools. The rougher you treat a wife the better she likes it."

"Pushed Her Aside."

Mrs. Methudy declared that no wife at the club got so little attention from her husband as she did from Methudy. She said that she always was pleading with him for more attention and that he would push her aside. She said that she cried on these occasions. Asked if, as Methudy testified, these tears were feigned, she replied that she didn't want him to see her crying, because he would see how much she cared for him. She denied Methudy's statements that she ignored him. "I always was waiting and watching for him," she declared.

She declared that on those occasions that he did take her with him, he warned her that she was to be seen and not heard. She said that he declared that she made too much of a "fuss" over him, that he didn't want her love and that she should go to a lawyer. "I will give you $5000," she said he offered. She replied, she said, that she didn't want his money, that she wanted his love.

More Affectionate During War.

In her testimony Mrs. Methudy commented on her husband's testimony that she speculated about the possible death of his wealthy uncle, E. C. Kehr, in the hope Methudy would get a large inheritance, which would benefit her. She said Methudy spent much time with his uncle until Kehr's death in April, 1918, and that her attitude was that, if Kehr died, her husband might spend more time with her and be more affectionate. Kehr, who was a lawyer, left Methudy $75,000 in his will.

Mrs. Methudy testified that after Kehr's death and after she had signed away her dower rights and had signed affidavits to Methudy's questionnaire in the selective service, Methudy was more affectionate in his attitude towards her. This attitude changed to the former attitude about the time of the armistice, November, 1918, she added.

Refers to Dixon.

Until it was mentioned in court, Mrs. Methudy said, she had never heard the first name of Ozra Dixon, co-respondent in the suit, she said. She said she met him as a golfing acquaintance at the Midland Valley Club last July, just as she had met a dozen other men whose names she mentioned. She explained that the men golfers knew she was lonely because her husband refused to play golf with her. One excuse he gave for not playing golf with her on Sundays, she said, was that Sunday was his day of recration.

"My husband used to bring his business friends from the East to play golf with me," Mrs. Methudy testified. "That was because they did not play for as high stakes as he was accustomed to play. My husband was known as a member of the club set that played for the biggest stakes."

Mrs. Methudy denied she permitted Dixon to hug her, and said he never tried to become too familiar. She said she never remained at the Midland Valley Club purposely to see Dixon. Her dancing with Dixon was similar to her dancing with other men. Once last autumn, when her husband danced with her, she said there was comment among the other club members as such an event was considered unusual.

Peculiar Way of Dancing.

That she laid her head on Dixon's shoulder when dancing with him, Mrs. Methudy denied. "I don't now if I seemed to look affectionately at him in dancing or not," she said. "I have a peculiar way of holding my head in the dance, in order not to rub powder on the man's coat. My husband once warned me to do this.

"I like tall dance partners best—in fact, I liked my husband best of all to dance with."

Mrs. Methudy said her style of dancing conformed to the usual modern style, which she explained involves a "tight hold" between partners.

"Chip (Methudy) holds tighter than any partner," she went on. "I like it that way."

Patted Maid on Back.

Continuing, Mrs. Methudy said her husband once patted his sister's maid servant on the back in her presence, but said she did not believe Methudy cared for the maid. She said he refused to meet her girlhood friends and failed often to keep engagements with her for dinner, giving "work" as an excuse. On such occasions he did not work, she added.

Her husband was in the habit of taunting her because she had no dowry. "A fellow ought to find out before marriage if a girl is rich," she quoted him as saying.

Sometimes, she said, Methudy would make familiar remarks in her presence about passing women. For instance: "There goes a good-looking chicken."

Mrs. Methudy said that three nights each week Methudy worked late at his store, sometimes as late as 11 p. m. Because she was afraid to stay at home alone, she would go to the store on such evenings, but she testified that for a year prior to their separation Methudy had forbidden her entering the store. She would have to walk up and down outside then, on cold nights, to keep warm, she said.

She said Methudy characterized her attempts at love-making as "nagging." "I tried to put my arm around Chip once," she said, "and he grabbed my wrist and hurt it. I said, 'Well, Chip, you're stronger than I am. Break it if you will.'"

Parents Paid for Clothing.

Mrs. Methudy was asked how her husband provided for her. "Well, he gave me a roof over my head and food to eat," she replied. "My parents paid for most of my clothing."

"He increased my allowance of $75 a month for the household to $135 lately. This was exclusive of the rent, but he would bring friends to dinner often, which increased the expense. He furnished the whiskey for these dinners, but I paid for everything else out of the allowance, including the wine and beer.

"He got $1500 a month salary from the business, but there were no luxuries provided for me, although Chip had plenty to gamble with. He once lost $50 or $60 on a bet on one hole of golf at Midland Valley."

Lost $450 in Card Game.

Mrs. Methudy told of a game of "red dog," a card game, at their home. She said her husband was out $450 in the game, while she was making 5 and 10 cent bets. "I had a good hand during the evening; there were three aces and a king in it, and one of the players advised me to let Chip play it," she testified.

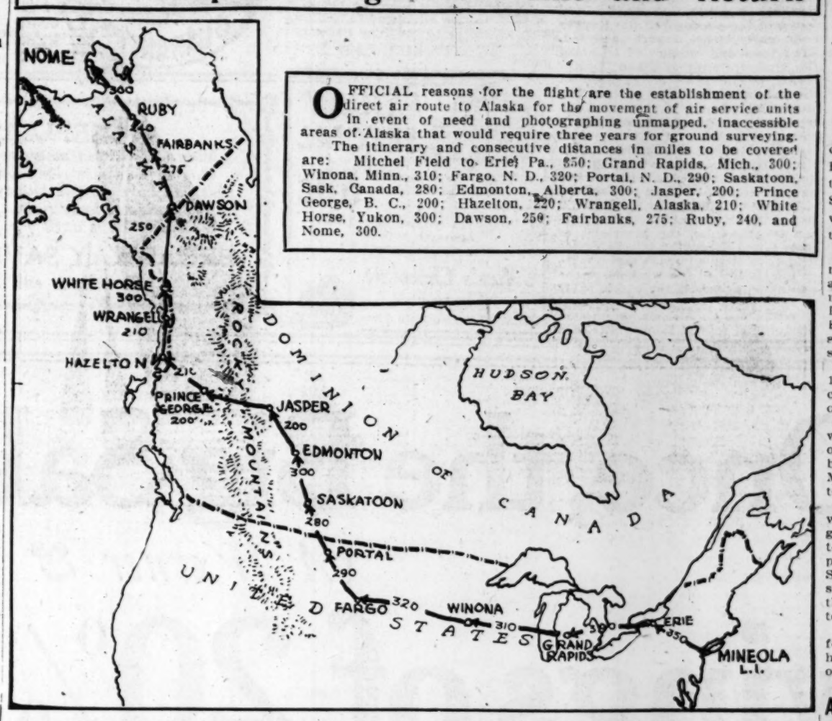
"He played the hand and lost $125 on it. I had another good hand soon and let him play it. He won that one." This testimony was given in answer to testimony that she had lost at cards, also.

Mrs. Methudy said that when they were in San Francisco on their honeymoon she asked Methudy for some money. "Have you no money?" she said he exclaimed, adding, "This is hell," as he gave her $2.

Mrs. Methudy testified her husband objected to children. She said he told her, "If we have any children, I'll throw you and the brats out."

Mrs. E. J. Dienst, 2346 Lafayette avenue, mother of Mrs. Methudy testified to the "loving manner" of Mrs. Methudy toward her husband. She said that on one occasion her daughter had caressed Methudy and stroked his hair, saying: "Mother, isn't he a handsome man?" She denied that her daughter had ever neglected her husband.

Map of the Route of the 9000-Mile Army Airplane Flight to Nome and Return



OFFICIAL reasons for the flight are the establishment of the direct air route to Alaska for the movement of air service units in event of need and photographing unmapped, inaccessible areas of Alaska that would require three years for ground surveying.

The itinerary and consecutive distances in miles to be covered are: Mitchel Field to Erie, Pa., 350; Grand Rapids, Mich., 300; Winona, Minn., 310; Fargo, N. D., 320; Portal, N. D., 290; Saskatoon, Sask. Canada, 280; Edmonton, Alberta, 300; Jasper, 200; Prince George, B. BLUEBIRD SALE TO DAVIS CO. APPROVED

Two Companies Plan to Merge, Paying Old Stockholders With New Stock.

The contract providing for the sale of the assets and good will of the BlueBird Manufacturing Co., now in the hands of receivers, to the Davis Sewing Machine Co. of Dayton, O., was approved by Judge Calhoun in the Circuit Court today.

The plan is for the two companies to merge and form a new corporation and to remove the BlueBird washing machine manufacturing business to Dayton. Payment will be made to BlueBird stockholders in the form of stock in the new corporation, with a stated par value of $2,450,000.

About 600 St. Louisans bought $1,100,000 of stock in the BlueBird company since last July. The claims of creditors amount to $950,000.

The contract contains a clause which makes its execution contingent on the Davis Sewing Machine Co. being satisfied that the BlueBird Manufacturing Co. has a clear title to its assets.

Three manufacturing companies which have creditors' claims aggregating about $138,000, yesterday intervened in the receivership suit, approving the contract with the Davis Sewing Machine Co., but asked that stock be paid on the purchase of the BlueBird assets be held subject to the claims of creditors.

The receivership will remain in force until this and other details have been passed upon by the Court or adjusted by agreement.

ANOTHER BOY IN HOSPITAL WITH BLANK CARTRIDGE WOUND

Physician Says Family Would Not Permit Administration of Anti-Tetanus Serum.

Arthur Goebel, 11 years old, son of Mrs. Sophie Goebel of 2107A East John avenue, is in a serious condition at the city hospital as the result of a blank cartridge wound suffered on the right hand index finger, July 4. He is being treated for tetanus.

Dr. Charles H. Emig of 4111 West Florissant avenue, who attended him, said the boy's family did not permit administration of anti-tetanus serum, although that was advised by the physician. Dr. Emig said he did not see the boy until three hours after he was injured, but cauterize the wound then.

Dr. Emig said Arthur's condition was normal until Tuesday, when it was noticed that he had difficulty in opening his mouth. Yesterday Dr. Emig ordered the boy's removal to the hospital.

Louis Weber, 11, of 4124 Grattot street, who was burned on the hand by a firecracker July 5, is still in a serious condition from tetanus at the city hospital.

RADIO TELEGRAPHERS MAY TAKE STRIKE VOTE BY WIRELESS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 15.—For the first time in the history of the labor movement a strike vote will be taken by wireless in a day or two when the members of the United Radio Telegraphers' Association will be called on to decide whether refusal of American ship owners to treat with them is to result in a strike.

The major portion of the association's 4000 members are at sea.

Demands for increases in pay of junior operators from $100 to $150 a month, of chief operators from $125 to $200 a month, and for an eight-hour working day were rejected at a meeting of representatives of the association, leading shipowners and the United State Shipping Board.

DEMOCRATIC PLANKS INDORSED BY GOMPERS

Says Labor Declarations Contain Measure of Progress Not Found in G. O. P. Platform.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Weighed against the specific demands of organized labor, the Democratic platform "more nearly approximates the desired declarations of human rights than do the planks in the Republican platform," Samuel Gompers, chairman of the special committee appointed by the American Federation of Labor to present labor's demands to both party conventions, said yesterday in reporting the result of the committee's work. With the report was made public an analysis of the labor planks in the Democratic platform, and comparison of these with the program adopted by the annual convention of the federation in Montreal.

"In summarizing, it is only fair to say that the Democratic platform marks a measure of progress not found in the platform of the Republican party," the report asserted. "The men and women of labor of the United States and her liberty-loving people must judge between the declarations of these parties. The citizenship of our country must determine its own course in electing those candidates who are most friendly disposed toward labor, justice, freedom, democracy, and to defeat those who are less friendly or more hostile to these principles.

"Labor of America is not partisan to any political party. It is partisan to principles, the principles of justice and freedom; it undertakes neither to dictate nor to contral either the choice of the workers or the citzenship generally for which party or candidates they should vote, but it would be a palpable dereliction of duty, did we fail to place the facts before the voters of our country upon the records of both parties and their respective candidates for public office."

MINERS AND GUARDS BATTLE IN WEST VIRGINIA FIELDS

Deputy Sheriff Shot From Ambush —Sniping Across Tug River Continues.

By the Associated Press.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., July 15.—Persons concealed in the dense undergrowth of the mountains of the West Virginia side of Tug River, north of here, yesterday attacked the tipple of the Borderland Coal Company on the Kentucky side. The fire was returned by mine guards. Reports said there were no casualties.

The shooting was resumed at night, according to information from Williamson. The message said 40 shots were fired at the Leckie Coal Company's property.

By the Associated Press.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., July 15.—R. H. Patfield, a McDowell County Deputy Sheriff, was shot and killed from ambush last night near Panther, W. Va. A posse of county officers is scouring the Panther region for the person who killed the officer. According to reports, the body of Hatfield was discovered near the railroad tracks by a train crew. A week ago his home at War Eagle was destroyed by fire.

Quality Does Pay!

"I have run my Mack continuously for 55,000 miles. My repair bill has been only $35, for labor."—From one letter out of hundreds we should like you to read.

EXTREME simplicity of parts, their special treatment and their accessibility are largely responsible for the paying quality of the Mack.

Distinctive Mack engineering features combined with 18 basic Mack patents have developed the motor truck the world is talking about.

Capacities 1½ to 7½ tons, tractors to 15 tons

"PERFORMANCE COUNTS"

C. OF C. TAKING VOTE ON INDUSTRIAL QUESTIONS

Referendum by Mail on Points in Report of Committee of National C. of C.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce in St. Louis are receiving by mail referendum ballots for vote on the report of the Industrial Relations Committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Twelve questions are propounded for affirmative or negative answer in one ballot and two questions in a second ballot.

Chief of the questions on the first ballot assert the rightfulness of the open shop principle, condemn restriction of production by either employer or employe, assert that employes are entitled to one day of rest in seven and that the hours of daily labor shall be determined after "careful study" and recognize the principle of free discussion between employer and employed.

The second ballot asserts that strikes by employes of public service corporations should be declared illegal and that compulsory arbitration should be established.

JURISTS AGREE ON MAIN PRINCIPLES OF WORLD COURT

By the Associated Press.

THE HAGUE, July 15.—The first part of the conference of jurists organizing a permanent court of international justice was finished yesterday. The principles on important subjects, including the selection of Judges, the competence of the court, the law to be applied and the procedure of the court, have been agreed upon at first reading.

The remainder of the week will be devoted to formulating the text of the project. Then the second reading will take place and if an agreement is reached then the project will be ready to be submitted to the council and assembly of the League of Nations.

LIPTON MANAGER IS INDICTED

Charged With Embezzling $70,000—Says He Lost It in Stock Market.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Charles E. Brierly, Western manager for the Thomas J. Lipton Co., Inc., was indicted today by a Federal grand jury on charges of embezzling $70,000 of the firm's money through manipulation of checks. Brierly declared he had lost the money in the stock market.

Rucker's Opponent Withdraws.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 15.—A. R. Hammett of Moberly, Prosecuting Attorney of Randolph County, last night withdrew his name as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Second District, leaving a clear field for Congressman W. W. Rucker of Keytesville, who has represented the district 22 years. Hammett said that his name was filed by friends while he was out of the State, and that he has no desire to make the race.

East St. Louisan Ends Life.

Fred Kassebaum, 35 years old, of 1611 Frederick street, East St. Louis, shot and killed himself yesterday at his home. He suffered an attack of influenza four months ago, and never fully recovered. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Maggie Kassebaum.

Tourists Advised Not to Visit India.
By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Americans who plan to visit India were warned today by the British embassy that they should take into account the existing shortage of hotel accommodations in that country, and the difficulty of arranging for return passage. The Secretary of State for India, the statement said, has called attention officially to the inconveniences tourists must face.

FACTIONAL DIFFERENCES DEVELOP AT CITY HALL

Thomas-Corlett Race Brings Out Supporters of Schmoll and Mohrstadt.

The rivalry between John Schmoll, Director of Public Welfare, and Charles E. Mohrstadt, City Marshal, for the Republican nomination for Sheriff at the Aug. 3 primaries, has developed factional differences at the city hall which are being reflected in the contest between Joseph B. Thomas, Supply Commissioner, and Robert D. Corlett, for election as Republican City Committeeman for the Twenty-eighth Ward at the same election.

Heads of city departments are taking an interest in the Thomas-Corlett contest because Thomas is an avowed Mohrstadt adherent, while Corlett is for Schmoll.

Hertenstein for Corlett.

Charles Hertenstein, a Republican, and chairman of the Efficiency Board, is one of the department heads who is active in supporting Corlett in the interest of Schmoll. Hertenstein today said he had talked with Joseph Krebs, a bookkeeper in the lighting department, who is a precinct chairman in the Twenty-eighth Ward, and told Krebs he was opposed to Thomas because he did not believe in one-man rule in the ward. He said he also would see other workers in the ward and urge them to be for Schmoll and Corlett.

Hertenstein said he saw no impropriety in taking an active part in politics in his home ward. He said he would assure city employes that their support of any candidate would have no effect on the tenure of their jobs, but at the same time he would remind them that they did not owe their jobs to Thomas.

Hertenstein said he was opposed to Thomas because he did not believe Thomas' methods in trying to run the political affairs of the ward by "making slates." In his opinion, he said, mass meetings of voters should be held to select precinct chairmen and workers. Hertenstein said he recently talked wtih Mayor Kiel, who told him he was for Schmoll.

Hooke for Schmoll.

Director of Public Utilities Hooke today said he recently talked with Owen Tillay, an engineer in his department, and asked him to be for Schmoll. Tillay, he said, did not answer in a way to indicate what candidate he was for, but, he said, Tillay's political preference would have no effect on his city job. Hooke also said Mayor Kiel told him he was for Schmoll and asked him to do anything he could for Schmoll.

Schmoll is said to be giving all his support to Corlett because Thomas recently was quoted as saying that Schmoll, as candidate for Sheriff, "would not get a vote in the Twenty-eighth Ward."

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN DEATH OF GIRL BY AUTO

Driver of Car Says Harriet Neary Ran in Front of Machine and Is Released.

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the death of Harriet Neary, 4 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Neary of 3912 North Market street, from injuries suffered at 6 p. m. last Saturday when knocked down in front of her home by an automobile driven by Louis Rosenfield, 49, a salesman, living at the Bristol Hotel, Pershing and De Ballivere avenues.

As told in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, the child died at 8 a. m. yesterday at Mullanphy Hospital from concussion of the brain. Her death was the fifty-ninth motor vehicle fatality this year. Rosenfield was rearrested following her death and gave bond to appear at the inquest. He testified that he was driving about 15 miles an hour and did not see the child until she was directly in front of the machine.

A witness testified that Rosenfield was driving slowly. Following the verdict, Rosenfield was released.

Seven persons were injured in motor vehicle accidents yesterday afternoon and evening.

Floyd L. Kessler, 17, of 1617 Carr street, was thrown from his bicycle in a collision with an automobile driven by Donald Neville, 5434 Maple avenue, on Goodfellow avenue, just south of the Hodiamont street car tracks. He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, where it was said that he was suffering from concussion of the brain.

An automobile driven by Mrs. Reba Oppenheim, 35, of 5823 Pershing avenue, figured in a double collision in front of 3924 Delmar boulevard in which Sam Konovalov, 18, of 4445A Evans avenue, suffered a fractured arm and cuts on the head. Mrs. Oppenheim was driving west when her automobile hit a motor truck driven by Konovalov, causing him to be knocked from the seat. In the rebound the Oppenheim car collided with another automobile eastbound on Delmar. Mrs. Oppenheim was arrested on a charge of carelessness, and Konovalov was arrested because he had no chauffeur's license.

Chester Sakowski, 17, of 1422 Shawmut place, was cut on the scalp when an automobile he was driving collided with an automobile driven by Elino A. de Lassus, 5501 Cates avenue, at Minerva and Belt avenues.

Joseph Wisse, 38, of 1817 Wash street, in crossing Washington avenue about 15 feet west of the crossing at Eighth street, was hit by an automobile driven by William Dodson, 5945 Horton place. Several of his ribs were fractured, and he was cut on the head and face. Dodson told the police that Wisse had stepped from between two parked automobiles.

Robert Springer, 25, of 3636 Finney avenue, a postoffice messenger, was knocked from his bicycle when it collided with an automobile driven by Calvin Plessner, 5555 Pershing avenue, in front of 2825 Locust street. His back was hurt and his head cut.

Marie Zellar, 7, of 4606A Delmar boulevard, suffered a fractured leg and wrist when hit by an automobile driven by William Wales, 3859 Lucky street, in front of her home.

Norman Cannon, 12, a negro, of 803 North Compton avenue, was knocked down at Franklin avenue and Beaumont street by an automobile driven by Edward Longhouse, 34, of 1104 North Sixteenth street. He suffered from internal injuries and cuts.

Lightning Kills War Veteran.

MOBILE, Ala., July 15.—John Henry Provine, 22 years old, son of Dr. J. W. Provine, president of the Mississippi College, and a veteran of the world war, was killed by lightning on his rice plantation at Violet, La., last night.

2 YOUTHS HOLD UP AUTOMOBILE IN PARK

Drive Occupants to County and Back and, On Arrest, Admit Previous Robbery.

Harry Jones, 20 years old, of 1032 South Eighth street, a chauffeur, and Claude Byrd, 20, of 1434 Menard street, a teamster, both out of employment, admitted to the police after their arrest in Tower Grove Park early today, that they had committed two highway robberies in parks in the last four days.

The arrest was made after Joseph N. Kilpatrick Jr., of 524 King's Highway Park, and Miss Alice Herzog, 19, of 3144 Potomac street, had reported at the Magnolia Avenue Police Station that two men waylaid them when they were riding in Kilpatrick's machine in Tower Grove Park at 11:25 o'clock last night and forced them to take them for a ride in the county after searching Kilpatrick and taking his watch.

Policemen sent to the park after the theft was reported found Jones and Byrd near one of the park gates on Arsenal street. Byrd had a revolver and Kilpatrick's watch.

Robbers "Take Little Ride."

Miss Herzog said one of the highwaymen was "very polite" and was profuse in his apologies for stopping them and searching Kilpatrick. After the search, she said, this robber forced her and Kilpatrick to get in the rear seat of the automobile and he joined them there while the other robber took the wheel. She said the robber in the rear seat facetiously called the other robber "James" and told him to take them for a "nice little ride in the county."

The robber chauffeur drove south on Grand avenue to Gravois avenue and to Affton, St. Louis County. There, according to Miss Herzog, the polite robber said: "Now, home, James," and the chauffeur turned back and took them to the spot where they had been stopped in the park. As the robbers left the machine the polite one tipped his hat and said: "Thanks for a very pleasant evening." During the ride, she said, "this robber sat between her and Kilpatrick and kept up a running conversation on general topics while holding a revolver in his hand.

Admit Previous Holdup.

At the police station Byrd said he and Jones committed their first robbery last Sunday night, when they took a watch from Emmett Curich of East St. Louis, whom they waylaid in Lafayette Park. A pawnticket for this watch was found in Byrd's pocket.

SUGAR

PURE CANE GRANULATED

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY. Be prepared for the heavy canning season and have enough sugar on hand to take care of any preserving need. Price, from all indications, will be higher. Why not make a saving worth while at this time, and then be free from all worry as to whether or not you will be able to supply your needs in sugar on the spur of the moment at preserving time. The present cost of sugar in carlots is considerably greater than the price at which we are retailing this same article.

CANDIDATES QUIZZED BY WOMEN VOTERS

Questionnaires Covering 17 Issues Being Mailed to All but Judicial Aspirants.

All candidates for State offices, except those for judicial positions, are receiving questionnaires from the Missouri League of Women Voters, which cover 17 issues, largely in regard to women, children and economic and humanitarian matters.

The questionnaires are being sent out from league headquarters in the Century Building, and the answers of some candidates already have been received.

Members of the league are being cautioned in a circular sent to all of them that, since women cannot serve as judges and clerks of election until the State Constitution is amended, it is their duty to see that the statutory requirement for "men of high moral character" is complied with in each county.

Issues Covered in Questions.

Issues on which the candidates are asked to state a "yes" or "no" stand, indicating whether they favor or oppose them, are as follows:

Equal public school opportunities for all sections of the State, conforming to the best standards of the day, with such remuneration for teachers as will attract men and women of high capacity.

A teacher's retirement fund.

The county unit administration of schools.

A new constitution for the State of Missouri.

The enforcement of existing laws for the protection of women in industry, including the nine-hour day, looking to the early passage of a law for an eight-hour day and a 44-hour week.

The elimination of night work for women.

The appointment of a wage commission on which women are adequately represented.

Women Factory Inspectors.

The recognition of the factory inspection office (a) establishing it on a salary basis, (b) giving it State-wide power, (c) having an adequate inspection force, with women inspectors included.

The passage of bills embodying the principles expressed in the bills of the children's code which were not passed by the last Legislature.

An immediate, intelligent and impartial revision of our election, registration and primary laws.

Adequate financial support for the State Board of Health and the organization of the departments of child hygiene, tuberculosis and venereal diseases, with funds for their efficient administration.

Taking the eleemosynary and penal institutions out of politics.

Penal Reforms Favored.

Modification of the present system of county support of dependents and defectives.

State reformatory farms to relieve the intolerable crowding at the penitentiary.

The early enforcement of all State and Federal laws.

A system of taxation which will provide necessary funds for all the departments of the State.

A State budget system eliminating waste and extravagance.

MAN GETS RELIGION, RETURNS $3 WON AT POKER IN 1913

Staunton (Ill.) Man Pays Back Money, Saying He Believes He Should Not Keep It.

Because he "got religion," Richard Imerthal, a Staunton, Ill., merchant, has been prompted to return $3 he won in a poker game with friends years ago. The other day he called in one of the friends who held a hand that night and asked him whether he remembered the game. The friend did not.

"I want you to forgive me," said Imerthal, offering $3 to the other man, saying he did not believe he should keep the money.

"Sure," said the friend, "I'll forgive you three or four times a day for three dollars a throw."

Then Imerthal turned over the money.

PAYS $2.75 FOR BLOCK OF WOOD

Druggist Accepts Package Marked "Collect" From Messenger.

A Western Union messenger boy delivered a package marked "collect" to the drug store of Hugo Boeppler, 3500 Olive street, yesterday, and said a man who said he was a doctor in the Metropolitan Building had sent him with it. Boeppler paid $2.75 charges and the boy departed. When Boeppler opened the package he found it contained a block of wood.

The messenger told the police the man who sent him with the package had called him to Theresa avenue and Pine street and had given him the package, with instructions to tell Boeppler it had been sent by a doctor. He returned to the corner and gave the man the money he collected and was paid for his services, he said.

3 ARRESTED IN OPIUM RAIDS

In a "clean up" of the Carr Street Police District last night policemen raided the homes of three negresses, confiscating opium smoking outfits and a quantity of narcotics.

Two negresses were arrested at 915 North Twelfth street when they were found smoking opium on the floor. Two boxes of cocaine and morphine were found pinned under a mattress.

At 706 North Fifteenth street one negress was arrested and an opium smoking outfit and a box of morphine confiscated. Two negroes were arrested at 708 North Fifteenth street, where a quantity of morphine was found.

RUN FROM SHOP WITH HATS

Two youths walked into the hat shop conducted by Harry Geffen, 803 Franklin avenue, yesterday and asked to be shown some straw hats. Each tried on a half dozen before they apparently were fitted. The hats were of the $7 variety.

"Let's see how they look in the light," one of the men suggested. They both walked to the door. One of them opened it.

"Now, run if you want that hat," he remarked to his companion and both fled east in Franklin avenue and escaped. The hats they left in the shop were turned over to the police.

REED OPENS CAMPAIGN AGAINST LEAGUE AT ST. JOSEPH

Senator Assails League Planks in Both Platforms but Says He Will Support Democrats.

By the Associated Press.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 15.—United States Senator James A. Reed opened his Missouri campaign against the League of Nations covenant with an address here last night in which he repeated his opposition to the covenant but declared that while league planks in neither the Democratic nor Republican platform met his approval he would support the Democratic ticket in the fall elections.

Senator Reed was heard by an audience of about 3000 persons. An attempt to heckle Reed was made, but in a friendly manner, the man asking if Germany had the league covenant.

The hall was paid for by political friends of Reed, who arranged the meeting. When Chairman McDonald, in introducing Reed, defended the French and British soldiers, somebody in the audience shouted, "You're a knocker."

The Senator read a telegram from Charles M. Hay, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Senate, replying to Reed's refusal to debate with Hay here tonight. Another telegram from Judge Henry S. Priest of St. Louis, also a candidate for the Democratic nomination, was an emphatic negative answer to the set of six questions that Senator Reed has sent to each of the senatorial candidates, and concludes:

"We should never permit our nation, already mortgaged by debt for several generations, to come to underwrite either directly or indirectly, by circumlocution or otherwise, the debts of any other nation or nations. We want peace, but we do not want it at the price of slavery."

A third message from James L. Minnis, St. Louis Republican senatorial candidate, was as follows:

"Have just noticed your questions in the newspapers. My answer is no. If elected to the Senate I would not vote in favor of any league which contains any of the provisions you mention. I would not vote in favor of any league or alliance which would entangle us in the affairs of Europe, contrary to the warnings of Washington. I am opposed to the principles of the present league and would vote against it in any form."

LONG AND SCRUTON FOR, MINNIS AGAINST THE LEAGUE

Breckinridge Long of St. Louis and Col. George H. Scruton of Sedalia have issued statements defining their attitude on the Leage of Nations. Their replies followed the receipt of questions by Senator James A. Reed, arch-assailant of the league, but they did not send their answers direct to Reed. Both are for the league.

Long in his statement, issued at Maryville, Mo., says he stands on the ground of the Democratic national and State programs and that in supporting the league with only such reservations as will not impair the covenant, he indorses and accepts the position of "President Wilson and President-to-be Cox."

Col. Scruton in his statement of his devotion to the League of Nations idea says: "Without such a solemn pact and working organization of the nations founded upon it there can be no assurance of the realization of the great ideal for which our soldiers fought, suffered and died."

James L. Minnis of St. Louis, Republican candidate for the senatorial nomination, in his reply sent direct to Reed says: "I am opposed to the principle of the present league and would vote against it in any form."

Fined for Annoying Girl.

Louis Dallomy, a cook at Frank Cafferata's cafe, Taylor avenue and Delmar boulevard, was fined $300 in Police Court today for annoying a 10-year-old girl in a theater at Eighteenth street and Franklin avenue, yesterday. The girl stated that he offered her money to go home with him and that she changed her seat four times and that Dallomy followed her each time.

Make Your Own BUG KILLER P. D. Q.

You can easily make at home a full quart of the strongest bug-killer for 35c, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants. This recipe will not burn, rot or stain the clothing and is entirely different from any other formula we know of, as this will kill the eggs.

Procure of your druggist a 35c package of (Peaky Devils Quietus) P. D. Q. then you will have the chemical made expressly to rid Hotels, Hospitals and dwellings of peaky bedbugs and other insects.

Impossible for the peaky devils to exist with the proper use of P. D. Q.

Special Hospital size $2.50—makes five gallons—your druggist has it or he can get it for you or send prepaid either size by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind., upon receipt of price. Look for the devil's head on every package. Sold by Judge & Dolph, Wolff-Wilson, Johnson Bros., and Merker's, East St. Louis, and other leading druggists.

You'll not be disappointed as to quality or price if you supply your table at KROGER STORES.

Only the very best and freshest of foods are handled, and the prices are fully 20% lower than elsewhere. Prices good every day, subject only to cost changes.

PURE CANE SUGAR 10 LBS. FOR $2.49

For Canning and Preserving. As long as our supply lasts we will sell 10 lbs. to a customer. We advise you to start putting in a supply now, as the price will not be lowe. but very likely higher, and a shortage in supply is possible later on.

Refreshing Satisfying ICED TEA Made from Kroger's Moon Chop, American Breakfast and Kroger's Green Tea. The equal of any dollar-a-pound tea on the market. ⅛-pound pkg., 25c; ¼-pound pkg., 13c; pound.. 49c

There is no earthly use of paying from 65c to $1.00 a pound for tea when you can buy tea just as good at the price Kroger charges. And Kroger's teas ARE as good as any dollar-a-pound tea sold. Try just one package and compare it with the tea you are now using. You will be convinced that you have been wasting money by paying higher prices than Kroger's.

SPANISH KING SCORES THREE GOALS IN GAME OF POLO

Prince Henry of England on Same Team Scores Two and Their Side Wins 9 to 5.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 15.—King Alfonso of Spain participated in a game of polo at the Roehampton Club yesterday. The team on which the King played won by a score of 9 goals to 5. Alfonso scored 3 goals, and Prince Henry, third son of King King George shot 2. Other members of the team on which the Spanish monarch and Prince Henry had positions were W. S. Buckmaster and Lord Wodehouse. Their opponents were Earl Peatty, Lord Wimbonne, Col. C. D. Miller and E. B. Horlick.

The game was a fairly fast one. Among the spectators were the Queen of Spain, Dowager Queen Alexandria and Princess Beatrice.

BRIDE IN HOME CEREMONY YESTERDAY

KANDELER PORTRAIT

Mrs. Roy R. Siegel

ARMSTRONG-SIEGEL MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED

Couple Depart for East After Ceremony at Home of Bride's Parents.

THE marriage of Miss Mildred Armstrong and Roy R. Siegel took place yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Naomi N. Armstrong, 738 Belt avenue. The Rev. Dr. S. E. Ewing officiated in the presence of only members of the immediate families. There were no attendants.

The bride was educated at Lenox Hall. She announced her engagement to Mr. Siegel at a luncheon at Bellerive Country Club last month, and only her most intimate friends were told the wedding date.

Mr. Siegel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Siegel of 5565 Lindell boulevard. He attended Smith Academy and is a member of the St. Louis Club and the Sunset Hill and Normandie Country Clubs.

Following a bridal trip through the East, Mr. and Mrs. Siegel will be at home temporarily with Mr. Siegel's parents.

HARDING SAYS REPUBLICANS GAVE SUCCESS TO SUFFRAGE

G. O. P. Nominee Resents What He Calls Misrepresentation of Party's Attitude Toward Women.

By the Associated Press.

MARION, O., July 15.—Senator Harding, in a statement last night, resented what he characterized as "persistent misrepresentations" of the Republican party's attitude toward woman suffrage and said to that party belonged the credit for that reform ever having a chance of success.

He deplored, however, efforts to make political capital out of the situation, and said he hoped ratification would be accomplished before November, no matter whether a Democratic or Republican State was the thirty-sixth to approve the suffrage amendment.

"Even if a Democratic State shall finish the business, the record will still show that 29 Republican and seven Democratic states made up the roll of honor," Senator Harding said. "That is good enough for us."

A miscellaneous program of 19 numbers, at 3715 Humphrey street, earned $33.25 for the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. The children who took part in the show, which made the biggest returns of any affair reported yesterday, were: Dorothy Veazey, Margaret and Katherine Kessler, Virginia See, Loretta Wayne, Virginia Hanser, Marie Barrett, Verna Marie Strauss, Rae Frank and Thelma Kinsella.

Another very successful show which was reported yesterday was given by seven children at 5924 Romaine place. It netted $16.14. The children who managed it were: Grace and Mary Bretch, Carol Clark, Bernice Williams, Vada Haley, Russell Caslin and Helene Selleck. In addition to the performance the children sold refreshments, which considerably swelled their donation.

Lewis Bettman and Tom Bond forwarded $7.14 which they made by selling soda at 6254 Waterman avenue.

Five Kirkwood friends managed a play and sold lemonade, July 3, earning $5 for the babies. They were: Victoria L. Chandler, Daisy Boucher, Leslie Brown, Lois Palmer and Jeannette Parker.

A show at 3644 Rutger, under the supervision of Florence and Margaret McCoy, Georgia Drennen, Marguerite Probasco and Robert Wright netted $4.10 for the Milk and Ice Fund.

An entertainment for the benefit of the babies was given at the home of Elizabeth Harms, 538 Montgomery street, and $1.50 was cleared and turned into the fund. Those assisting were Alvera Biest, Ida Nagel, Dorothy Holt, Ruth Gemsky, Lucille Rebson, Helen Grimm and Mildred French. Music was furnished by George Nagel.

A lemonade stand at Flad avenue conducted by Charlotte Darrish, Evelyn Convy and Valeska Walt earned $1.30 for the babies.

Six cash contributions were received in yesterday's mail. Mrs. Morris Goldman sent $25 "in memory of Lieut. Jerome L. Goldman, for the babies he loved so well," and $5 in her own name. Fifteen dollars was received from Miss Margaret Aitken, 6209 Ridge avenue, Webster Groves; $5 came from Joan Wolfort and "Cash" made his weekly donation of $1.

A check for $5 was received "in memory of Mrs. T. D. Gerstley by her co-workers, the Patriotic Four." The letter was signed by Mrs. N. Rosenthaler, Mrs. E. Seelig and Mrs. J. Siegel, an organization which has always been prominent in activities for the furtherance of the fund's work.

CAPPER GIVES BIRTHDAY PARTY TO 10,000 CHILDREN

Kansas Senator Includes All Those Under 16 Years of Age in His Invitation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 15.—Arthur Capper, United States Senator and publisher of the Topeka Capital, gave his annual children's party today in a local park, in celebration of his fifty-fifth birthday anniversary. All those under 16 years of age were included in the Senator's invitation, which was not confined to Topeka youngsters and approximately 10,000 were entertained.

Features of the party included free refreshments without stint or limit; free trips on all the park concessions; a baseball game, and field events in which prizes were awarded.

A field hospital and "lost and found" station served as a haven for such as needed them. Senator Capper delivered an address.

Girl Drinks Poison on Street.

Helen Weild, 20 years old, 2511 Evans avenue, attempted to end her life by drinking poison at 7:30 a. m. today in front of a grocery store at Francis street and Cass avenue.

She was taken to the city hospital where she said she was "tired of work." She is employed in a shoe factory. Her condition is serious.

Kills Pesky Bed Bugs P. D. Q.

Just think, a 35c box of P. D. Q. (Pesky Davils Quietus), makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas or cootles and stops future generations by killing the eggs and does not injure the clothing.

Liquid fire to the bedbugs is what P. D. Q. is like, bedbugs stand as good chance as a snowball in a justly famed heat resort. Patent spout free in every package of P. D. Q. to enable you to kill them and their egg nests in the cracks.

Look for the devil's head on every box then you'll have what Hospitals have found to be the best insecticide known to science. Special Hospital size $2.50 makes five gallons—contains 3 spouts—either size at your druggist or sent prepaid upon receipt of price by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Genuine P. D. Embarrassing Hairs Can Be Quickly Removed

(Beauty Culture)

Hairs can be easily banished from the under-arms, neck and face by this quick, painless method: Mix into a stiff paste some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. Excepting in very stubborn growths, one application is sufficient. To avoid disappointment, buy the delatone in an original package and mix fresh

To Keep Straightest, Unruliest Hair in Curl

The straightest, contrariest hair can be kept in curl, even in the hottest or dampest weather, by such simple and harmless means, that the use of the drying, singeing, blistering curling iron is altogether inexcusable. One need only get a few ounces of plain liquid silmerine from the druggist and apply a little to the hair before doing it up. The result is quite remarkable. The hair is delightfully wavy and beautifully glossy, without being in the least greasy, gummy or streaked. The effect lasts very much longer than where curlers alone or waving irons are used.

The silmerine is best put on with a clean toothbrush, drawing this through the hair from crown to tip, preferably after dividing it into strands. The application seems to gradually improve the texture and health of the hair.

HARDING UNABLE TO COME HERE FOR LEGION CEREMONY

Senator Telegraphs That Campaign Will Keep Him From Making Trip, as Planned.

Senator Harding, Republican nominee for President, who had accepted an invitation to attend dedicatory exercises of the American Legion in Memorial Park Cemetery on July 25, has sent word that he cannot come to St. Louis as he had planned. His telegram, received yesterday by the St. Louis Executive Committee of the Legion, follows:

"I am more sorry than I can tell you that insurmountable difficulties prevent my coming to St. Louis for your contemplated program July 25. I will not detail the reasons, but they are inseparable from my candidatorial obligations and you can be sure my disappointment is sincere. Since Mr. Starek told me of your plans and the spirit of the occasion, my disappointment is magnified.

"I cherish the thought of uttering becoming tribute to the republic's defenders, to the sacrificing mothers and noble nurses; and I am going to cling to the hope that I may still find opportunity for speaking the esteem and appreciation of a truly grateful American for all that you and they did."

The committee decided to proceed without Senator Harding.

HALE (MO.) BANK VAULT BLOWN AND DEPOSIT BOXES ROBBED

Loot Consists of Liberty Bonds and Securities—Boys Awakened by Explosion Give Alarm.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HALE, Mo., July 15.—Safety deposit boxes in the Bank of Hale were opened by robbers, who gained entrance through a window and dynamited the vault. No currency was taken, but it is believed private holders of boxes have lost Liberty bonds and other securities. Two boys awakened by the explosion, gave an alarm and the robbers were pursued out of town in an automobile.

The Third Day of Courtesy in the August Sale of Furniture

JUST one more day before the inauguration of the sale proper. Two days have passed in which our patrons have shown keen appreciation of the opportunity given them to make their furniture selections deliberately from a complete stock and yet be given the advantages of the August Sale prices.

And these are advantages you may count yourself lucky in having the opportunity to take up. Many times daily are we congratulated upon our well chosen line of distinctively beautiful furniture; and many times daily too do we hear exclamations of pleased surprise at the reasonable prices placed on it.

Perhaps you hadn't thought of buying furniture—you'll find your time well spent if you pay our furniture section a visit—just to view the many beautiful pieces there. And if a piece finds special favor with you, you'll not find a better time to buy than now.

Friday, the third day of courtesy, reservations may still be made, at sale prices for later delivery. Monday the sale proper begins.

BURGLAR, PAROLED TO ENTER ARMY, ADMITS NEW CRIMES

Louis Fey Confesses Robbing Homes Recently When Owners Were Absent.

Louis Fey, 24 years old, 1122 St. Ange avenue, who was pardoned by Gov. Gardner, he says, to go into the army, confessed to Police Captain Kirk at the Soulard Street Station yesterday that he has recently committed two burglaries. He says that he tntered the homes of John McCaffery, 1547 South Ninth street, and Mrs. Lena Gamblin, 1412 St. Ange avenue, while the families were absent, taking from the McCaffery home a revolver, trousers and two rings, and from the Gamblin home a bracelet and trinkets.

Fey was arrested Friday on complaint of Mrs. Jennie Freeman, 1124 St. Ange avenue, that he had annoyed her little daughter and another child. He dropped the bracelet, but the policeman who arrested him saw it and picked it up. A ring was found in his pocket which awaits Indentification. In it is engraved "A. P. to A. H."

Fey was arrested in 1917 as he was leaving a house near Ninth and Rutger streets which he had robbed. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three years in prison. He says that Gov. Gardner pardoned him and restored him to citizenship and he served at Camp Funsten until the armistice.

JAMES A. RECTOR, FORMER OLYMPIC ATHLETE, MARRIED

Member of Law Firm Weds Miss Viola Mesch—Engagement Was Not Announced.

James A. Rector, member of the law firm of Blodgett & Rector and former Olympic athlete, was married last night to Miss Viola Mesch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Mesch of 4621 De Tonty street, at a quiet wedding in Mount Calvary Episcopal Church, with the Rev. J. D. Simmons officiating. Their engagement had been announced and the wedding came as a surprise to their friends. The bride's father is a superintendent for the Brown Shoe Co.

Rector, who was a member of the American Olympic team at the games in London in 1908, where he figured in the dash events, is a graduate of the University of Virginia and a son of the late Col. E. W. Rector of Hot Springs, Ark. He is 36 years old and came to this city in 1910. He has practiced law since then.

He did not give up his rooms at the Hermitage Bachelor Apartments where he lived or apprise any of his friends there of his intentions.

WAR DEPARTMENT RECEIVING MUNITIONS FROM ENGLAND

Shipments Made to Close Out War Contracts That Could Not Be Canceled After Armistice.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The War Department is receiving from British manufacturers considerable quantities of guns and ammunition to close out war contracts which could not be canceled at the time of the armistice without injustice to the European manufacturers, with whom the Ordnance Department had contracted for large quantities of guns and ammunition.

In the necessary adjustment with both French and British manufacturers, several hundreds of large calibre rifles and howitzers were accepted. Shipments of these were delayed subsequent to the armistice, owing to the pressure on production. It is these belated orders, which are closing out all the United States-European contracts which are being shipped to this country. All the ordnance and ammunition now being received is being sent to American cavalry reserves.

HAIR OFTEN RUINED BY CARELESS WASHING

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months

HUSBAND SILENT AFTER KILLING MAN FOUND WITH WIFE

Sheriff Declares Emmet Ballew, Who Killed Benjamin Sartain at Railroad Station at Fayette, Mo., Is Perfectly Self-Possessed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FAYETTE, Mo., July 15.—Emmet Ballew, the farmer who shot and killed Benjamin Sartain when he found the latter with his wife at the railroad station here yesterday afternoon, today refused to make any statement other than saying that he would give his testimony at the trial. Ballew is perfectly self-possessed about the matter and Sheriff Pryor, who has him in charge, says that he has shown no signs of nervousness since his arrest.

On account of the excitement following the killing, Sheriff Pryor thought it necessary to conceal at first the fact that Bollew had been arrested. The latter, after shooting Sartain, went to his farm about eight miles from Fayette, and informed his farm help what to do. He told bystanders in Fayette that he was willing to submit to arrest when wanted and agreed to go with a deputy who was sent for him.

There was no talk of violence and he is now in the Fayette jail. Sheriff Pryor said this afternoon that it had not been necessary even to secure an extra deputy to guard him.

Mrs. Ballew, the cause of the shooting, was not detained. She went to the home of her father, Larkin Buran, who lives about 15 miles from town. Witnesses who saw the affair were not held, but were notified to appear at the inquest which was held today. The verdict was "death by a pistol wound" but Ballew's name was not mentioned.

The shooting occurred when Ballew saw his wife alight from a train and greet Sartain, who had gone to the depot apparently to meet her. He followed the couple for several blocks until they separated and then, according to witnesses, stepped up to Sartain and shot him. The latter was found to have a loaded revolver on his person, but had made no attempt to draw it.

Injunction Made Permanent.

A permanent injunction was issued by Federal Judge Faris yesterday, restraining the members and agents of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and Local Union No. 125 from picketing or interfering in any way with the business of the Missouri Pants Manufacturing Co., 923 Washington avenue. The hearing of the application for the injunction was held several weeks ago.

Friday is cheese day

TO many the Friday day of abstinence from meat means a real privation because they do not like fish or are unable to get good fresh fish.

Everyone can vary the monotony of fish day by trying cheese dishes on Friday. Cheese is a highly concentrated meat food. It is equivalent in nutriment to three times its weight in lean beef. Cheese prepared in any of the scores of delicious cheese dishes for which our recipe book gives particulars will enable you to vary the Friday menu with agreeable and novel dishes.

Kraft Cheese in Tins is sterilized, blended to insure uniform quality and packed and sealed in parchment lined tins. No hands touch it till you open the tin. Comes in 8 delicious varieties.

Attendance—10,000.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Allan Sothoron and Carl Mays, the submarine right-hander, were the flingers in today's game between the Browns and Yankees. A crowd of 10,000 was on hand.

FIRST INNING.

BROWNS—Tobin popped to Pratt. Gedeon struck out. Sisler hit to left-center for a home run. Jacobson out, Mays to Pipp. ONE RUN.

NEW YORK—Sothoron threw out Peck. Ward walked. Pipp sacrificed, Smith to Sisler. Ruth walked. Lewis also walked, filling the bases. Bodie walked, forcing Ward over the plate. Pratt singled to center, scoring Ruth and Lewis and sending Bodie to third. On an attempted double steal Bodie was out at the plate, Severeid to Sothoron to Severeid. THREE RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

BROWNS—Williams tripled to right. Smith singled to left, scoring Williams. Gerber sacrificed, Mays to Pratt, who covered first. Severeid singled to deep short, Smith reaching third. Sothoron walked, filling the bases. Tobin hit into the right field stand for a home run, scoring Smith, Severeid and Sothoron ahead of him. Gedeon doubled to left. Mays was taken out of the box and Thormahlen replaced him. Sisler grounded to Peck and Gedeon was out at third, Peck to Ward to Thormahlen. Sisler stole second. Jacobson walked. Williams singled over second, filling the bases. Sisler stole home, Jacobson and Williams followed with steals, when Ruel went down on the play to catch Sisler. Ward threw out Smith. SIX RUNS.

NEW YORK—Ruel flied to Tobin. Sothoron threw out Thormahlen. Gedeon threw out Peck. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

BROWNS—Peck threw out Gerber. Severeid singled to center. Sothoron singled to right, sending Severeid to third. Tobin lined to Pipp, who stepped on first, doubling Sothoron. NO RUNS.

NEW YORK—Gerber threw out Ward. Pipp lined to Jacobson. Ruth flied to Tobin. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING.

BROWNS—Peck threw out Gedeon. Sisler singled to right, but was out trying to stretch it, Lewis to Pratt. Jacobson tapped in front of the plate and was tagged out by Ruel. NO RUNS.

NEW YORK—Lewis singled to right. Bodie fouled to Sisler. Pratt singled to center, Lewis stopping at second. Ruel bunted to Sothoron, who threw past first, Lewis scoring, Pratt taking third and Ruel going to second. Thormahlen singled to left, scoring Pratt and Ruel. Peck singled to left, Thomahlen stopping at second. Sothoron was taken out and replaced by Burwell. Ward flied to Williams. Pipp hit a home run into the right field stand, scoring Thormahlen and Peck ahead of him. Ruth lined to Gerber. SIX RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.

BROWNS—Williams hit a home run to deep center. Smith grounded out to Pipp. Peck threw out Gerber. Severeid popped to Pratt. ONE RUN.

NEW YORK—Lewis walked. Bodie hit into a double play, Gerber to Gedeon to Sisler. Pratt singled to center. Gerber threw out Ruel. NO RUNS.

SIXTH INNING.

BROWNS—Burwell struck out. Ruel threw out Tobin. Gedeon doubled to left. Sisler singled to right, scoring Gedeon. Collins now pitching for New York. Jacobson flied to Ruth. ONE RUN.

NEW YORK—Collins grounded to Sisler. Gedeon threw out Peck. Ward walked. Pipp flied to Tobin. NO RUNS.

SEVENTH INNING.

BROWNS—Williams flied to Bodie. Smith singled to center. Gerber singled to left, sending Smith to third. Severeid was purposely passed, filling the bases. Burwell fanned. Tobin fanned. NO RUNS.

NEW YORK—Ruth singled to center. Lewis sacrificed, Burwell to Sisler. Gerber threw out Bodie, Ruth reaching third. Pratt got his fourth hit when he bounced a single off Burwell's glove, Ruth scoring. Ruel flied to Tobin. ONE RUN.

EIGHTH INNING.

BROWNS—Gedeon flied to Ruth. Sisler flied to Lewis. Jacobson grounded to Pipp. NO RUNS.

NEW YORK — Collins fanned. Peck singled to left. Ward hit into a double play, Gerber to Gedeon to Sisler. NO RUNS.

NINTH INNING.

"MULE" WATSON, FORMER CARDINAL, IS NOT GOOD ENOUGH FOR "OUTLAWS"

When "Mule" Watson, a pitcher, and Edgar Collins, an outfielder, deserted Organized Baseball to play with an "outlaw" team at Franklin, Pa., they believed that they were bettering themselves.

But the backers of the Franklin team, dissatisfied with the work of Watson and Collins, have "released" them outright to make room for other men.

As a result Watson and Collins are out in the cold unless they can obtain engagements with some other "outlaw" club. They cannot return to Organized Baseball for the reason that they jumped the so-called reserve rule.

This will be the fate of other players who have left their old employers to accept tempting offers from industrial or independent promoters. They are outside the breastworks to stay.

London—King Alfonso of Spain participated in a game of polo at the Roehampton Club.

Wolff Holds 2 Up Lead After First 18 Holes of Play

St. Louisan Outplays Boyd of Chattanooga During Forenoon Play of Western Golf Tourney.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 15.—Sensational playing by James Ward of Kansas City, who finished the first 18 holes of the third-round match play all square with Charles ("Chick") Evans of Chicago, featured the morning play today in the tournament for the amateur championship of the Western Golf Association in progress over the Memphis Country Club course.

"Bobby" Jones of Atlanta was 4 up on Clarence Hubby Jr. of Dallas, Tex., at the end of the first 18 of their 36-hole third-round match.

Ward Putts Well.

Ward won many holes with spectacular putts and the Chicago veteran managed to even matters only by dint of remarkable shooting on the inward nine.

Rains of last night and early today served to slow up the course somewhat today.

Henry Wenzler, former Memphis caddy, was 8 up on Burt Wilber, Indianapolis champion, when the morning round was finished; and Clarence Wolff of St. Louis was 2 up on Pollack Boyd of Chattanooga.

The Wenzler-Wilbur affair brings together the two form-smashers of yesterday's play. Wilbur set the gallery gang agog by eliminating Richard Bockenkamp of St. Louis, whose medal efforts were second low to Jones'; while Wenzler was responsible for the flight of Perry Adair's title aspirations. Another surprise came when Eddie Limberg of St. Louis eliminated his fellow-citizen, James Manion, in the initial round, 2 up.

Limberg Puts Out Manion.

Limberg took a 78 to defeat the Midland Valley entrant, which was quite good enough, inasmuch as Manion was every place except in the course on his tee shots. He went out of bounds twice on the first nine, and had unplayable second shots twice on the return journey. After defeating Manion, Limberg lost in the afternoon to Hubby, 6 and 5.

Walter Kossman of Normandie Golf Club started out well enough, defeating Dudley Weaver Jr. of Memphis, by the convincing score of 8 to 6; but in the post-luncheon play he succumbed to the St. Louis nemesis, Mr. Wilbur of Indianapolis, who had just eliminated Bockenkamp. Kossman, however, took the Hoosier State star to the nineteenth hole before being expunged.

Bockenkamp will probably blame a one-foot putt for his absence from championship play, today. He was 2 down at the turn; but went 1 up on the fifteenth tee after winning, 10, 13 and 14. However, the match was again squared on this green when the youthful St. Louisan missed a 12-inch pin shot. Wilbur got a 3 on No. 16 and went to the lead; while the match was decided on the next hole when Bockenkamp got into a peck of trouble and needed an 8 to hole out.

Knepper Proves Worthy Foe.

Wolff had an easy time in the morning round, winning over T. W. Palmer of Jacksonville, Fla., 6 and 5; but the second round match brought stiffer opposition in the form of Rudy Knepper, the Des Moines star. Wolff won, 1 up.

Evans and Jones, the tournament favorites, had matters pretty much their way, and won handily.

SEMIFINAL MATCHES IN WOMEN'S CENTRAL STATES TENNIS TOURNEY TODAY

Semifinals in the singles and the first round in the doubles of the women's Central States tennis championships will be played at the Triple A this afternoon. The finals of both tourneys are scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

The two singles matches will bring together Miss Lotta Hagemeyer and Miss Mary Byers in the upper bracket, while Miss Corinne Gould, present champion, will meet Miss M. Cassett in the other match. The play will be started at 4 p. m.

Eight teams have enrolled for the pair competition. Probably the strongest of these teams is the Gould-Cassett combination.

Yesterday's results were as follows:

Miss Lotta Hagemeyer defeated Mrs. J. V. Allison, 6—2, 6—1.

Miss Mary Byers defeated Miss J. Alsberg, 8—6, 6—1.

Mrs. M. Cassett defeated Dr. L. M. Canouse, 6—0, 6—0.

Wallace Beats Van Raalte.

Bobby Wallace defeated Van Raalte, 50—19, yesterday, in one of the matches played in the elimination red ball tournament at Peterson's, while Dr. Turner won from Argo, 50—41. In the third event opened yesterday, Wills downed Mills, 50—37. Today's schedule is Howard vs. Rosing; Finny vs. Laudecker and May vs Lauditz.

Meanwell Goes to Wisconsin.

MADISON, Wis., July 15.—Dr. W. E. Meanwell, who resigned as director of Athletics at the University of Missouri, will return to Wisconsin in the fall to coach basketball. Guy S. Lowman, the Badgers' basket coach, will transfer his activities to baseball.

Downey Shades Bartfield.

DETROIT, Mich., July 15.—Bryan Downey of Columbus, O., shaded Soldier Bartfield, New York, in a hard-fought 10-round match here last night.

Mack Signs Outfielders.

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—Two new outfielders were today signed by the Philadelphia, American League, baseball club. They are Frank Walker, formerly with Detroit, who was bought from the Rocky Mount Club of the North Calorina League, and Johnson, from the Worcester club, of the Eastern League.

Rube Yorrison, pitcher, was released to the Rocky Mount Club.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Olympic Games a Minor Event.

TELL it not in Gath, Bo; but between you and me the Olympic track and field games will be a bush-league event, compared to the one scheduled next Saturday at the Harvard Stadium, Cambridge, Mass., where the winners and second-place men of the various sectional tryouts for the United States Olympic team will compete.

If records mean anything, the men who finish second and third in the trial tests at Cambridge next Saturday could capture the Olympic title at Antwerp. The first team wouldn't be needed.

The wealth of material is greater than Europeans can conceive. In each event, with one or two exceptions, there is an abundance of championship timber.

The sprint events are typical of virtually all others. For example, in the 100-yard dash there will be competing at Boston:

Jackson T. Scholz of St. Louis.
Loren Murchison of St. Louis.
Charles Paddock of Los Angeles.
Howard Drew of Drake University (colored).
S. C. Williamson, U. S. Army (colored).
Bill Hayes of Notre Dame.
Morris Kirksey of San Francisco.
Harold Lever of Philadelphia.

Every man of this outfit has bettered even time. Others have been timed unofficially in 9 3-5 seconds, while Drew actually has this world's mark in his record. Paddock also made this time last Saturday, but the A. A. U. may not allow it.

The same men, with the addition of Massengale, St. Louis, will try in the 220-yard dash, and here again a world's record-holder—Drew—and other men who have done within one-fifth second on the world's time (21 1-5s) are included in the list.

Is there any doubt that even the "seconds" of such wonderful fields are good enough to win a world's championship? Here and there foreign nations will win isolated events; but the bulk of the U. S. entry seems fit to win at least two places in a majority of the track and field features and, in some instances, to monopolize all the places.

To the Rescue, Boys!

MISS CORINNE GOULD of St. Louis, who ranks among the leading women players of the country, was defeated in the final of the U. S. Clay Court Championship at Detroit because she was encountering for the first time a woman with power and punch to her play.

Miss Zinderstein bats 'em like Babe Ruth, and she is hard to stop. At any rate, she easily defeated our chop stroke marvel, because the St. Louis girl lacked experience in handling a hard-driving opponent's returns.

Miss Gould is going to Philadelphia for the National Women's Championship, on turf courts, where the chop stroke will fare better.

But she should not be permitted to go there without having been given some weeks of work against the more severe style of play she will encounter from Miss Zinderstein, Mrs. Wightman and one or two others.

It's up to the men tennis players of St. Louis to give her the needed practice, as the women players of this city can't even raise a dust with their pace. Players like Fred Josties ought to take our representative in hand and give her a few workouts. Two weeks would make a real difference in Miss Gould's chance.

Without such preparation Miss Gould can hardly hope to cope with the champion and the runner of last year, both of whom have faced Molla Bjurstedt, Mary Browne and other lights.

Evidence Is All In.

EVIDENCE in the case of Man o'War vs. Doubting Thomas is all in. Saturday's wonderful performance by the son of Fair Play in establishing a world's record for the mile and one furlong distance, lowering the American records for a half mile and six furlongs en route, was accomplished under such circumstances as to banish only question as to this thoroughbred's world's championship class.

It had been admitted that Man o'War owned speed and the requisites of greatness in the matter of time. But, was he game? What would he do when some great-hearted rival crawled up beside him and edged his way past? Would he fold up and quit? Or would he display that final quality which must be present in the makeup of all champions—a fighting heart?

Thanks to conceding 18 pounds' weight, Man o'War could not shake off John P. Grier throughout the early journey. One-sixteenth of a mile from the finish Grier, under punishment, lifted his head past the nose of Man o'War.

"He's beaten," shouted the champion's own trainer, according to a New York story. And, but for the fact that he was a champion INSIDE, he would have been. Instead, however, of falling back, Man o'War responded to the call of his jockey, plunged ahead and took the heart out of his rival, winning by two lengths in the last 20 yards.

It was John P. Grier who cracked, and the world's champion who stood the test.

Scout, Trying to Sign Ball Players Without A License, Arrested

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 15.—Accused of attempting to lure players from the Charlotte South Atlantic League Baseball Club, P. Meehan, promoter of an independent baseball team at Chesterfield, S. C., "in the Million Dollar League," was arrested here yesterday.

The specific charge against him is solicitation of labor without a license.

ST. LOUIS NET PLAYERS MAY ENTER VALLEY TITLE TOURNAMENT NEXT WEEK

The first annual tennis tournament for the championship of the Missouri Valley will start next Saturday on the courts of the Kansas City Athletic Club in Kansas City. There will be events for both men and women in singles and doubles. The men's doubles will be known as the Missouri Valley sectional doubles and the team winning this event will be entitled to take part in the national doubles championship to be held in Boston during the week commencing Aug. 16.

According to the announcement sent out by the Kansas City Athletic Club, an effort will be made to secure a large entry for the tournament. A number of prominent tennis players are located in Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska and Kansas, comprising the Missouri Valley section, and many of them will doubtless take advantage of the opportunity of entering the most important tournament in this section.

While no official announcement has been made, four or five St. Louis players will probably represent this city at Kansas City. Either of the two leading local doubles teams, Josties and Drewes, or Haase and Brown, will have an excellent chance to win the sectional doubles if they should decide to enter. Any one of these four players might capture first honors in the singles, although Kansas City has Jack Cannon and Howard Penfold, both strong players. Ames, Iowa, has a good man in Philbrook Smith, who reached the semifinals in the Central States tournament here last week, while O. J. Sweet of Des Moines the Iowa State champion, ranks high in the Missouri Valley section.

1920 OLYMPIC ENTRIES EXPECTED TO EXCEED TOTAL AT STOCKHOLM

ANTWERP, July 15.—Entries pouring in on the Olympic Committees, although as yet not fully classified, indicate that Stockholm's total of 3000 contestants may be exceeded, despite the absence of Germany and Austria from this year's games.

Although France, with 350 entries, has the largest number for any single country, advices received from Australia and South Africa show the British Empire probably will have the largest representation.

Italy, whose athletes have been trained by Platt Adams of New York, has asked for accommodations for 220 men.

Arrangements were made yesterday by the Olympic Reception Committee to meet each arriving group of athletes with bands, and, if possible, to escort them to their quarters in this city.

Louisiana League Quits.

BEAUMONT, Tex., July 15.—The Louisiana State Legue, which last April began its first season in organized baseball was disbanded yesterday, according to a message from Jay Davidson of Lafayette, La., president of the organization, made public here today.

St. Louisans All Eliminated From Chicago Singles

Haase Last to Succumb, Losing to Strong Western Star, Burdick.

CHICAGO, July 15.—In three matches played at the South Side Tennis Club yesterday in the national clay court championship R. Lindley Murray, national patriotic champion in 1917, showed that he had lost but little of the skill which made him famous, even though his work no longer permitted him the amount of practice he has had in former years. The three victories, plus a default, places him in the fifth round, where he will be called upon to meet the winner of the match between Alex Squair, Western champion in 1915, and J. J. Armstrong, who has ranked in the first 10.

Murray was extended at no time, his hardest match being the one against Walter Wesbrook, Michigan champion, who was defeated, 6—1, 6—2. Even against Wesbrook, Murray did not follow his service to the net in the majority of cases. He allowed Wesbrook three points in the first five games and only 10 in the first set.

Haase Weak on Backhand.

The last of St. Louis singles players, W. Haase, met defeat yesterday. Ralph Burdick, who is playing splendid tennis, defeated him, but the match was closer than the score indicates.

Haase was unsteady on his backhand and was unable to take the net with any degree of success against the side line drives which Burdick was sending over.

Roland Roberts, who is expected to meet Murray in the semifinal round, defeated L. Harry Waldner, president of the Western Lawn Tennis Association, and a player of ability, in a three-set match. Roberts won the first set the day before, rain interrupting the play with Roberts leading, 3—1, in the second set. Waldner outplayed Roberts when play was resumed yesterday, and won the set, 8—6. He is over 40, though, and could not keep up the pace necessary to defeat the younger man. Roberts followed this victory by a comparatively easy triumph over George O'Connell, a Southside Club player, entering the sixth round, where he will meet Ralph Burdick, Western doubles champion.

Burdick was on the top of his game yesterday and defeated Simmons of Cleveland, who had defeated Burdick in an inter-city match, a month ago, without allowing him a single game. He followed this by defeating Walter Haase, one of the St. Louis contingent, 6—2, 6—2.

Armstrong Shows Old-Time Form.

J. J. Armstrong, the well-known chop-stroke artist from St. Paul, defeated George Reeves, champion of Kentucky, in straight sets, 6—1, 6—2, and today plays Alex Squair, Western champion in 1915, who is attempting a comeback this season. Armstrong enters the match favorite, as Squair has not played seriously since winning the championship and is regarded as an unknown quantity.

The doubles started yesterday and a number of matches were played in the first and second rounds. Roberts and Richards and Clifton Herd and Jerry Weber, the former Yale captain, look like sure semifinalists in the top half, while Hayes and Burdick, Western champions, and Bates and Levy, from California, the the most likely candidates for the finals in the lower section. Ray Epstein and Harvey Frolichstein of St. Louis won from D. T. Ward and G. Pasmore, 6—4, 4—6, 6—4.

Vincent Richards won an easy singles match against Bradley Guyton, a Chicago junior player of promise.

MISS BLEIBTREY SETS NEW SWIMMING RECORD

NEW YORK, July 15.—Miss Ethelda Bleibtrey, the young swimming marvel of the New York Women's S. A., shattered another world's record in the last batch of Olympic aquatic tryouts for women at the Manhattan Beach baths, yesterday.

Competing over a 100-meter course, swept at right angles by a half gale, she won the final heat of the 300-meter free-style swim in 4m. 34 1-5s., as against the listed international standard of 4m. 43s. by Miss Fannie Durack of Australia, and a mark of 4m. 40 1-5s. claimed for Mrs. Frances Schroth of San Francisco recently.

The figures hardly convey a true idea of the wonderful speed displayed by Miss Bleibtrey, for she battled against unusually difficult conditions, while both Miss Durack and Mrs. Schroth set their records in a still, smooth bath.

BRIEF SPORT NEWS.

Tyrus Cobb, Detroit star, was carried off the field yesterday at Boston, when he again injured his left leg. Cobb had just recently returned to the fold after an absence of a month.

Al Mamaux and Ed Pfeffer hurled the Superbas to a double victory over the Cubs yesterday.

Cincinnati has two batters, Groh and Roush, in the first five in the National League.

Montreal—Tommy Noble of New York outpointed Georges Papin, French lightweight champion, in a 10-round bout.

Boston—Everett Scott ran his string of consecutive games up to 601, playing with Boston in the American League.

WALTER JOHNSON HOLDS FIVE PITCHING RECORDS

When Walter Johnson of the Senators pitched his no-hit game recently it was not his first performance to find its way into the record books. He already held five other notable records. One of them is a mark for consecutive scoreless innings—56—established from April 10 to May 15, 1913. Another credits him with 16 straight games won in 1912, an American League record that has been equaled only by Joe Wood. That year in winning nine games from one club, the White Sox, Johnson equaled a major league mark that had been set by Ed Reulbach of the Cubs in 1908.

Shamrocks Ad Lib.

SHOULD Thomas Lipton lift the cup
We'll cheer him long and hearty.
With grape juice he can fill it up
And give a little party.

But if perchance the beans are spilled,
There isn't any reason
Why Shamrock V he cannot build
And try some other season.

Sir Thomas is a proper sport,
That fact there's no denying;
And when he loses he's the sort
That still believes in trying.

With Lipton's boats we're glad to mix
And squarely we will fight 'em;
So come on Shamrock V and VI
And so ad infinitum.

Next to Pure Reading.

THEY walked among the shredded wheat
When grapenuts were in season;
He murmured: "Why are you so sweet?"
She answered: "There's a reason."

He asked her if she would be his
And take the marriage vow;
And when she said: "Eventually,"
He answered: "Why not now?"

NEW YORK, July 15.—Six men qualified last night for the Olympic boxing team which will represent the United States at the Olympic games to be held at Antwerp in August. After the finals rounds at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory the following were chosen to sail for Europe on July 26:

P. Zivic, Pittsburg, 112-pound class.
Earl Hartman, Philadelphia, 126-pound class.
Jack Zivic, Pittsburg, 125 pounds.
Frank Cassidy, New York, 135 pounds.
William Clark, Philadelphia, 147 pounds.
Sam Lagonia, New York, 160 pounds.
Edward Eagen, Yale University, 175-pound class.
William Spengler, New York, heavyweight class.

Six more boxers will be picked to make the trip, following bouts between the losers of the semifinals at the New York Athletic Club tonight.

BOB MARTIN KNOCKS OUT O'BRIEN IN FIRST ROUND

COLUMBUS, O., July 15.—Bob Martin of Akron, O., heavyweight champion of the A. E. K., knocked out Dick O'Brien of Cincinnati in the first round of their scheduled 15-round bout here last night.

Marshall Takes Lead.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. Y., July 15.—Frank J. Marshall of New York, United States champion, went into the lead yesterday in the sixth round of the Master Chess tournament here. Marshall drew with Stasch Mlotkowski of Los Angeles, while Charles Jaffe of New York, with whom he tied, lost to E. S. Jackson of Philadelphia. J. T. Sharp of Philadelphia, defeated George G. Neidich of Cornell University.

Cardinal Defense Cracks; Jake May Hurls Good Game

Giants Capture Third Game, 7-1, and Climb to Within 1½ Games of Knotholers.

NEHF CHECKS RICKEYMEN

Lefthander Holds St. Louis to Seven Hits and Is Master Throughout Contest.

The Cardinals have fallen into evil ways. The team which during its triumphant drive of early June was playing a spectacular game in the field to support its vicious attack with the bat, has wallowed for weeks in a batting slump and the result has been a weakened morale which has caused the collapse of a potentially sterling defense.

Jakie May gave a hurling exhibition yesterday afternoon which in early June would have resulted in a victory for the Rickeymen. Jakie struck out five Giants in the first three innings and looked like a sure winner. He was cutting the corners, putting them within the strike zone and still keeping them high or low, and the men of McGraw soon found that it was useless to wait for Jakie to put over a "cripple."

And then after Jake had pitched himself out of several precarious positions, holding the visitors to six hits and two runs, his support went to pieces and with it went a large measure of Jake's effectiveness. Misplays by the Cardinals in the seventh inning helped to give the Giants four runs. As the Rickeymen remained in their hitting slump the four runs were unnecessary, the Giants winning, 7 to 1, making it two games out of three.

May Starts Like a Champion.

May started the afternoon by striking out Burns and Young in the first inning, Bancroft flying to Schultz. Frisch scratched a single to center to open the second inning. Frisch stole second and on Dilhoefer's throw to center continued to third. Jake showed his mettle by fanning Kelly and King and getting Doyle on a fly to Schultz.

With two down in the third, Burns singled to right and stole second, a short passed ball assisting him. Jake walked Bancroft but ended the inning by fanning Young.

Crossed signals prevented a Cardinal score in the third. McHenry crashed a single through Bancroft but was out trying to go to second when Schultz failed to bunt. Schultz followed with an infield single and May made it three safeties in a row by punching one to right. Janvrin flied to Young and Fournier tapped to Nehf.

Thereafter until the eighth, when McHenry tripled and Schultz singled, the Cardinals were helpless. Nehf held them to seven hits and was their master throughout.

Jake Strong in Pinches.

May again showed his courage in the fourth. Frisch walked to start the inning. Kelly bounced a single off May's glove. King bunted and after rolling along the line the ball finally came to rest in fair territory, filling the bases. May fanned Doyle and retired Snyder and Nehf on flies to McHenry, Frisch scoring on Snyder's drive.

Bancroft's double and Young's single to left gave the Giants another run in the fifth and their scoring should have stopped there.

Nehf opened the disastrous seventh with a single to right and went to third when Burns singled to left on the hit and run. Bancroft hit to Hornsby, who threw wide to Dilhoefer, allowing Nehf to score. Young struck out. Frisch singled to right and Schultz chose to throw to third. Burns scored and when Stock let Schultz's throw elude him Bancroft scored and Frisch took second. Frisch scored on Kelly's single, after which a double play, with North on the mound, ended the frame.

In the eighth, with two down, Fournier dropped Lavan's throw on Nehf's grounder and Burns tripled to left, scoring Nehf.

Brooklyn's double victory put the league leaders eight games ahead of the Cardinals, who dropped below the .500 mark, just a game and a half ahead of the sixth-place Giants. The Rickeymen are in the first division by a half-game.

In their games this season the Cardinals have won 7 and the Giants 4.

Today is an open date for the Cardinals, the tail-end Phillies calling tomorrow for the first game of a series of four. Boston will follow, after which Rickey's charges will depart on another tour of the East.

AMERICAN ATHLETES TO TRAIN AT FORT SLOCUM

NEW YORK, July 15.—Fort Slocum, near here, has been selected as final training quarters of the American Olympic team previous to the sailing of the athletes for Antwerp the last week of July. Several hundred members of the track and field, swimming, boxing, wrestling and other sport competition groups have been instructed to report at Fort Slocum on Monday, July 19, equipped for the trip to Belgium.

They will be quartered in the army cantonment and will be in charge of the team captain and coaches. Daily training will be conducted at Travers Island.

South Africans Win.

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 15.—The South African team of marksmen yesterday won the historic Kolapore cup. Great Britain was second and Canada third. The South African team established a lead at the first range—200 yards—and maintained its advantage at the other ranges—500 and 600 yards—finally winning by 15 points.

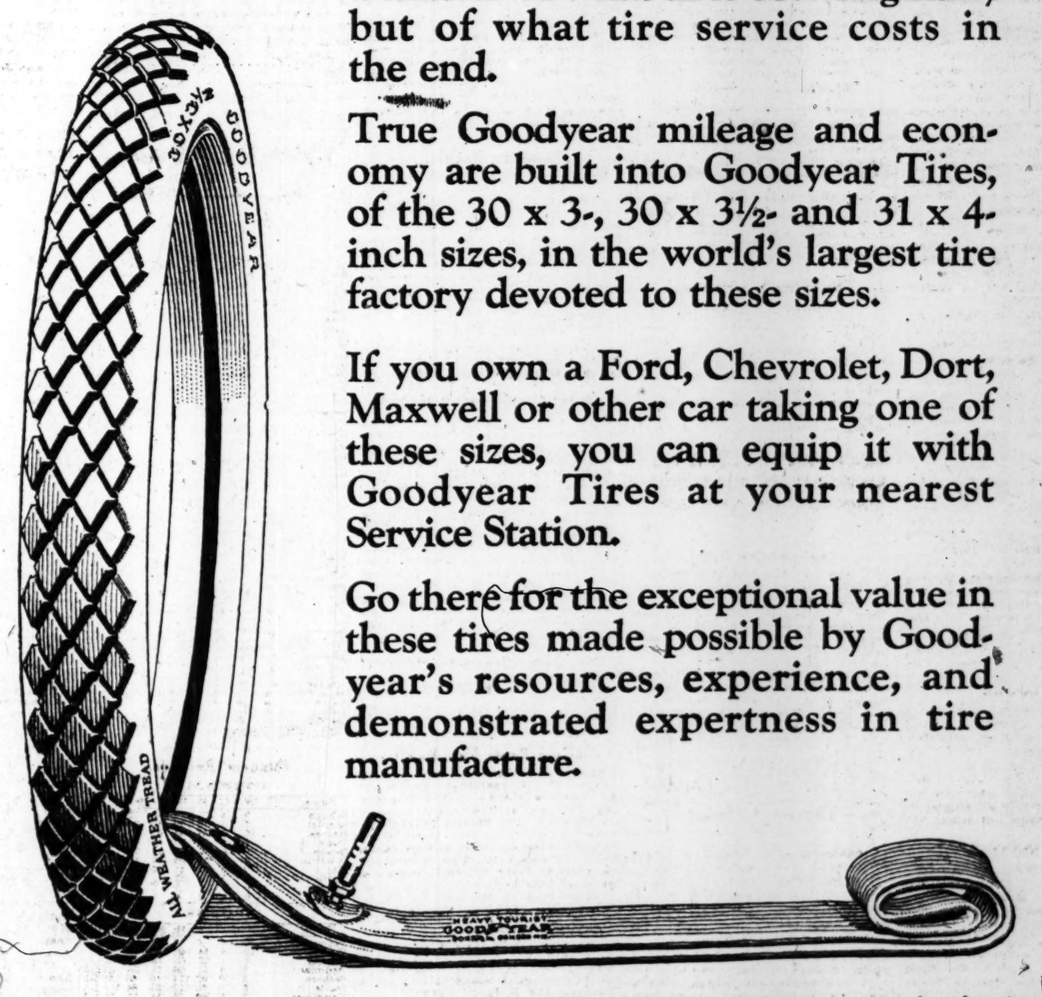
Get Goodyear Value In Tires for Small Cars



Don't be misled by very cheaply priced tires, for tire economy is not a matter of what tires cost originally but of what tire service costs in the end.

True Goodyear mileage and economy are built into Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3-, 30 x 3½- and 31 x 4-inch sizes, in the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking one of these sizes, you can equip it with Goodyear Tires at your nearest Service Station.

Go there for the exceptional value in these tires made possible by Goodyear's resources, experience, and demonstrated expertness in tire manufacture.

STOCKS BREAK WITH CALL LOANS AT 11 PER CENT

Crucible Steel Shows Greatest Effect of Rise in Interest Rate.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"With a rise in the rate for call loans to 11 per cent in the late afternoon, as against an earlier rate of 8 per cent, the stock market sold off sharply, displaying a rather surprising lack of demand for stocks either from speculators or the general public. Steel, automobile and rubber tire stocks lost several points, Crucible Steel in particular suffering a remarkable perpendicular drop between consecutive sales. Prior to the afternoon break the market had been merely dull, with a tendency to sag. Railway shares declined in the later trading, though to a smaller degree as a rule than the industrial shares. Possibly the withdrawal of Government funds from depository banks was responsible for today's sudden rise in interest rates. Such withdrawals are usually accompanied by heavy rediscounting at the Federal Reserve, which gives that institution a very effective hand in the money market for the time being.

Sterling Reacts

"There was a recovery of a half cent in the rate for sterling after an earlier decline, while the Continental exchanges also showed improvement. In the case of Germany, the movement of the Berlin rate from 2.53 to 2.59 cents to the mark may be taken as measuring the market's relief that the threatened deadlock at Spa over the coal deliveries has apparently been averted. The price of gold at London advanced sharply, touching 106 shillings 6 pence per ounce, against yesterday's price of 105 shillings. Inasmuch as the market price is determined by the movement of the American exchange rate, the advance presented no unusual features. Silver was fractionally lower on both London's market and our own.

"The December wheat option dealt in on the grain exchanges for the first time since August, 1917, brought prices in today's first trades ranging from $2.72 to $2.75 a bushel, whereas before the opening there had been predictions of $2.80. There may be some significance in the statement of the news dispatches that most of the business seemed to be 'on the selling side.' With the present outlook for a crop of more than 800,000,000 bushels, plus a carryover from the preceding crop about three times as large as that of a year ago, there is certainly in prospect no scarcity except that which may result from poor transportation facilities. An increase of about ¼ per cent in the percentage of reserve was shown in the weekly statement of the Bank of England. Against an increase of $10,000,000 in the gold holdings of the bank, 7,400,000 additional notes were put in circulation.

Payment on Loan

"Since the end of June sterling exchange has declined 12 cents on the pound, while from the high point of the year, touched early in April, the loss has been approximately 20 cents. A decline of such proportions suggests the wiping out of a considerable speculative account, in addition to the marketing of large amounts of commercial bills drawn on London. Two other considerations, however, have probably contributed to the movement. One of these is the rather indefinite report that England will assume a substantial part of France's obligation in connection with the Anglo-French loan, thus increasing the amount which England must remit to this country. The other is the diminishing prospect that the October loan payment will be accompanied by shipment of large amounts of gold to this country. How nearly correct the exchange market is in these assumptions, remains to be seen. At all events, it may be taken for granted that England will not attempt to pay any considerable part of the Anglo-French obligation by sales of sterling on this market. The indications are, rather, that sales of American securities will provide the bulk of the funds needed."

Foreign Exchange and Domestic Money

NEW YORK, July 15.—The foreign exchange market was less active in the forenoon, awaiting developments of the Spa conference. After the excessive decline yesterday, there were few offerings in the market. Sterling was modrately bid, moving up ⅜c on a light volume of business. German marks were strong, moving up to 2.59. Around noon all the prime exchanges showed improvement over the nominal quotations at the opening.

CURB OPENS STRONG, BUT SOON GETS DULL

Recession Noted in Afternoon, But Some Issues Hold Small Net Advances.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 15.—A good general decand caused a strong tone at the opening of the Curb Market today, but after advances had been recorded trading became dull, and in the afternoon small offerings caused recessions. Many issues, however, held net advances over the previous close.

National Oil continued firm on fairly large transactions. Salt Creek attracted attention, being in good demand even after others reacted. Fensland was strong on fair dealings, the remainder of the list remaining inactive and moving within narrow limits.

National City Bank rights featured the miscellaneous list. The buying was most urgent and forced an upturn of more than 5 points. Chicago Nipple sold off on selling pressure after having scored an early advance.

Mining shares were less active and price changes were small. A report was issued on Boston and Montana stating that the development work was satisfactory.

There was only moderate trading in the bond list, but prices held about steady.

Hog Market Lower.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., July 15.—Today's estimated receipts: Cattle and calves, 4500; hogs, 7500; sheep, 1600; horses and mules, 250.

CATTLE—Only a moderate supply of cattle was available in the native department and market averaged steady to probably a trifle easier in a few instances. Quality was only medium, best steers bringing $16. Veal calves sold steady to 50c higher, top going up to $14. About 60 cars of quarantine steers arrived and market on these was about steady.

HOGS—Bearish sentiment again dominated the hog trade and market and a sheer drop of 50c per cwt. was indicated from yesterday's high time. A few early sales were made from $15.90 to $16, the latter price representing the top, but the bulk of the sales were made to packers within a range of $15.75@15.80, some right decent hogs clearing at $15.65@15.70. Pig market slow and a big quarter lower, as were rough hogs, the latter bringing $12.50@12.75.

SHEEP—Market remained steady for sheep and lambs. A better string of lambs was noted at $15.25 than appeared at that figure yesterday, but this was due to improvement in the quality and not to any added strength. Fat sheep sold at $7, canners at $1.50 and choppers and bucks from $4@5.

HORSES—Buyers have offered a fair outlet for the better grades of southerners this week and the right kinds have scored good rates. There is no demand from the East.

MULES—Miner and pitter mules continue to constitute bulk of the sales made in the department. There has been no material change in values.

Wall Street News and Comment —SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The market today sunk further back into the rut in which it was all through the latter half of June and over the Fourth of July holiday. The proponents of the theory of a summer rise that would carry through July and August continued to stick to their position, maintaining that the setback since the first of the week was no more than a normal reaction. But there was small encouragement for this view of things in the action of the market itself. It was hard to get away from the fact that, in a couple of days, the entire gain of a fortnight in many stocks had been swept away. It was hard also to explain the return to such extreme dullness as was witnessed today. No doubt the inside position of the market is decidedly stronger than it was a week ago.

Lackawanna Steel.

It was very disappointing from the bullish point of view that the exeremely favorable report of Lackawanna Steel should have fallen as flat as it did. Lackawanna, to be sure, is in a more fortunate position than most of the others, because it owns its own coal supply. Still it was not doubted that with Lackawanna Steel having undergone such a remarkable change for the better during the second three months of the year this would prove to be the experience with the other steel manufacturers; and the fact that the steel stocks not only did not go up, but were quite as heavy as anything else on the list, was not a very cheering incident.

* * *

The Bond Market.

Bond trading was somewhat less active today, but the tone of the market kept firm. There were few price changes of consequence, but the more active issues in the Government group and in the equipments maintained their recent advance. Libertys held most of the day around the closing figures of last night. The Belgian 7s got up their high point again of 100⅝. The Swiss Government 8s were strong, just under 103.

It was announced that the syndicate which underwrote the $50,000,000 Sinclair Oil 7½ per cent notes had been extended from July 14 to Aug. 14. It cannot be extended any further than this. This action meant, of course, that the notes have not gone well. The competition with the better-placed railway equipment offerings has been too keen. The privilege of conversion into new Sinclair Oil preferred stock with common stock as a bonus has not proved to be the drawing card that had been anticipated.

On the other hand, that new industrial issues are not being discriminated against simply because they are industrials, is demonstrated by the success of the Armour bonds. These have now established themselves on a price level above 95, as against approximately 94⅝, the issue price.

Among the equipments the Louisville & Nashville 7s made a new high record at 101¾ and the Delaware & Hudson 7s were strong at 100¾.

* * *

Southern Pacific.

It was said today in circles which are usually well informed about such matters, that London has been a heavy buyer of Southern Pacific during the last two or three weeks. Southern Pacific to foreign traders is thought to be one of the very best of the American railroads and, with its great oil possibilities and other favorable faetures, has attracted quite a following abroad.

* * *

Western Pacific.

From time to time the street has heard a good deal about the remarkable possibilities of Western Pacific. Interest in the subject was stimulated by the recent increase of the preferred stock dividend to the full 6 per cent to which this issue is entitled. A circular on Western Pacific just put out by a stock exchange firm discusses the Western Pacific situation at some length. It points out that the earnings statement for 1919 was of no significance because during the first seven months the property was managed entirely in the interest of the Central Pacific. During the last five months of the year under its own Federal Manager there was a great increase in earnings and, had there been the same independent management for the entire 12 months, Western Pacific, it is estimated, would have shown about 8 per cent for the common stock.

* * *

Nova Scotia Steel.

In 1919 Nova Scotia Steel reported net earnings for its common stock, after all charges, including depreciation and allowance for preferred dividends, of $6 a share on its 150,000 shares. This compared with $10.60 in the previous year. However, in the first four months of the current year the operating profits were $490,502, as against $463,493 in the same period last year.

Estimating the results for the year on the earnings to date, it would appear that the company should exceed the 1919 earnings. The company is reported to have sufficient orders on hand at the present time to cover production over the balance of the year and, in addition, the orders received for general service cars will enable the Eastern car company to contribute its share of the profits during the last half of the year.

NEW YORK COTTON MAKES NEW HIGH GROUND, REACTS

NEW YORK, July 15.—July notices estimated at about 2800 bales were reported in the cotton market at the opening today, but July sold up to 41.47 on the call, making a new high record and held steady during the early trading. Other months opened at an advance of 2 to 15 points, except August, which was 30 points higher, with October selling at 34.38 and December at 32.55 shortly after the call, or 25 to 31 points net higher. Firmer Liverpool cables and Liverpool buying orders contributed to the advance, while there was further covering and some domestic trade buying of early new crop deliveries. Private reports of heavy rains in parts of the central belt were also a factor, but the higher prices brought in considerable realizing which caused more or less irregularity after the first half hour.

The official weather map failed to show as much rain as early private reports had indicated, and the market turned easier than the middle of the morning under realizing. July showed no weakness and there was very little trading in it, notwithstanding the notices. But the later months lost nearly all their early advance, with the market quiet around midday. Today's reports from the middlings trade have indicated mill curtailment in the knit goods trade but it was reported some of the employes of New England woolen mills have found work in cotton mills, which consequently had been able to increase their production.

The detailed weather reports which were more nearly in line with private rain news than the early map were followed by sharp rallies during the early afternoon and prices made new high ground for the movement on renewed covering. July advanced to 41.72 and October to 34.50, with the general list selling about 30 to 43 points net higher. Later the market reacted several points under realizing.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Cotton—Futures closed steady; July, 41.73c; October, 34.20c; December, 32.25c; January, 31.42c; March, 30.70c.

DECEMBER WHEAT $2.73 AS TRADING IS RESUMED

December wheat sold at $2.73 at the opening of the Merchants' Exchange today, marking the resumption of trading in wheat futures after a period of nearly three years, or to be exact, since Aug. 25, 1917. The first transactions, during which the price ranged between $2.75 and $2.72½, were between cash interests. Millers were reported buyers of the options. The early turnover was of moderate volume.

Wheat failed to hold the early level and at the close December was offered at $2.71. March wheat ranged between $2.75 and $2.75½ and was bid $2.74¼ at the close. Spot wheat was weak and 2c to 7c lower.

Coarse grains slumped badly in the late session and closed at but slight reactions from lows. July corn broke 4½c and September corn 4c. July oats fell 6½c to 88½c basis. Spot grains were 1c to 3c off for corn and 2c to 4c down on oats. Feeding in oats was particularly bearish.

Corn and oats were lower in quiet early market. The weather map of provious day was favorable. The Iowa weather bulletin was favorable on corn. Receipts of oats have been good and this has been reflected in the trade.

Local receipts today were 127,200 bushels of wheat, including 63 cars local and 43 through; 93,600 bushels of corn, including 65 cars local and 7 through; 90,000 bushels of oats, including 29 cars local and 16 through.

MILL TAKES WHEAT AS FUTURE TRADE BEGINS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, July 15.—There were more spectators than traders in the pit at the opening of the wheat market. The first day's business was a keen disappointment to the brokers, but no radical changes in values were noted. The opening sales ranged from $2.72 to $2.75 and at the close prices had dropped to $2.70½ for December rallying ½c from the low. Buying was principally by a concern acting for a big Minneapolis mill, while hedging pressure was felt throughout the session. Country sold wheat more freely to arrive and bids were unchanged to 3c lower, while export bids were down 2c to 3c. Seaboard reported that the British had booked 1,000,000 bushels of wheat overnight and continent about 100,000 bushels. Weather was ideal in the Northwest and black rust scare is subsiding. Local shippers sold 15,000 bushels to exporters all rail shipment.

Corn trade was little effected by the action of wheat. The market was irregular early, but after midday heavy selling by big professionals brought about further liquidation and stop loss selling and the finish was at losses of 3⅛c to 5c. Weather conditions are ideal for corn. Cash corn was unchanged to 1c lower despite the reduced receipts. Shipping sales were 38,000 bushels.

The oats market moved in sympathy with corn and the close was a weak one with losses of ⅜@5¼c shown. The weakness in the cash market was a depressing factor. Premiums were slightly better. Receipts continue to show some increase and country is anxious to move some of their old oats. New crop is making excellent progress. There was a big demand for cash oats overnight and sales for shipment were 230,000 bushels, mainly new oats for deferred shipment.

Provisions were dull. Lard received some support early because of the advance in hogs, but general selling on the break in coarse grains carried values lower at the finish. Hogs closed 10c to 15c higher with 13,000 carried over. Pork closed 70c lower, lard 17½@32½c off and ribs declined 30c.

MISSOURI INTERURBAN HITS HERD OF CATTLE AND KILLS 14

Seventy-five Passengers on Kansas City-Excelsior Springs Route Escape Serious Injury.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 15.—There were 75 passengers on a Kansas City, Clay County and St. Joseph interurban two-coach train at 8:30 yesterday morning, when the train crashed into a herd of cattle four miles northeast of Liberty, Mo., and was derailed, while running at a speed of about 45 miles an hour.

None of the passengers or trainmen was injured seriously, although virtually everyone on the train sustained minor cuts and bruises. Fourteen head of cattle were killed. The wreck halted interurban traffic between Kansas City and Excelsior Springs, but it probably will be resumed today.

HAY, IN REPLY TO REED, SAYS SENATOR'S TIMIDITY IS AMAZING

By the Associated Press.

JOPLIN, Mo., July 15.—In answer to a telegram received last night from Senator James Reed, in which the Senator declined to debate the League of Nations at St. Joseph, Mo., tonight, Charles H. Hay of St. Louis, Democratic candidate for Senator, today sent the following telegram to Senator Reed:

"You misconstrued my telegram. When I wired offering to meet and answer you, I did not mean to avoid you. By confronting you I did not mean to evade you. I meant what I said. I expected you to be there with your questions which I have received only through the press. They will receive the attention such questions deserve. While your unfairness incenses me, your timidity amazes me. I hope you will at least be free to come into the Senate chamber when I am there."

City News in Brief

POLICE ITEMS

THE HOME OF JOHN STRAUCH, 3145 Russell avenue, was turned topsy-turvy by burglars yesterday. Every room in the house showed traces of the visit of the intruders. The family is out of the city and until they return it will not be known if anything was stolen.

JEWELRY VALUED AT $100 AND A pair of trousers were stolen from the home of David A. Perkey, 2641 Ann avenue, yesterday.

POLICE HAVE BEEN ASKED TO ARrest a man about 35 years old who has passed a number of checks to which the name of Samuel Kraus, a depositor in the Manchester Bank, Manchester and Chouteau avenues, has been forged. Two of the checks, for $25.50 and $16.22, have been turned over to the police. They were cashed by Charles O'Keefe of 1015 South Taylor avenue, and N. Schreiber, 4488 Clayton avenue.

REVENUE AGENTS YESTERDAY ARrested George Green of 928 North Fifteenth street in his home when they raided the place and found 80 grains of opium and 25 grains of morphine in his possession. A tray containing a pipe and other opium smoking utensils was found beside a cot in the house.

BURGLARS IN THE HOME OF ISAdore Tiger, 5159 Enright avenue, in the absence of the family, yesterday, stole 38 quarts of whisky on which a valuation of $400 was placed.

MISCELLANEOUS

AN ORDINATION SERVICE AT WHICH five missionary workers were ordained ministers was held at the Samaritan Church, 1309 Market street, Tuesday night. The Rev. Hiram Brown, a presiding elder of the United Brethren Church, was in charge of the services. Those ordained were: Edward Collins, Ross I. Cummings, Willard MacHenry, Bessie Lee Collins and George Stennett.

THE PROVIDENCE BAPTIST CAMP meeting which has been in progress two weeks at 4356 Kennerly avenue, will close Sunday night. Evangelist T. A. Johnson of Alton, who is in charge, will speak on "Dry Bones in the Valley" tonight, "Six R's" Friday night and "A Dead Dog After a Flea" Sunday night. There will be no meeting Saturday night. The services begin at 8 o'clock.

THE LEWIS COUNTY ASSOCIATION will hold its annual picnic and reunion at Forest Park, Grounds No. 4, Saturday at 3 o'clock. Games and amusements for all ages have been provided.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON AND EVENING

the annual benefit outing for the Good Samaritan Hospital Altenheim, Jefferson avenue and Dayton street, will be held on the grounds of the Protestant Orphans' Home Park, St. Charles Rock road, under the auspices of the Men's and Ladies' Aid Societies. Admission will be free.

J. C. PENTLAND, NEWLY APPOINTED executive secretary of the Central Y. M. C. A., Grand and Franklin avenues, arrived in the city today to assume active charge of the work in that department of the local association. Pentland formerly was assistant dean of the physical department of the "Y" college at Lake Geneva, Wis., and an instructor in the association school at Chicago. He has been in "Y" work for 15 years.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

As we have no information bureau, it is impossible to answer queries by mail or telephone. Query for Sunday must be mailed a week beforehand.

BOOBIE.—Guinea-fowl eggs hatch in 28 days.

FRANK B.—In case of a misdeal the hand should be played over.

TEDDY.—Senator Harding has not yet announced his stand on the prohibition question.

M. F. M.—Address Joseph T. Robinson, secretary of the Democratic National Committee, at Lonoke, Ark.

F. G.—A half dollar of the year 1831 is worth from 50c to 55c; a 1-cent piece of the year 1850 is worth from 1c to 15c.

EMMETT MURPHY.—You can join the "Knot-Hole Gang" at any time by applying to the Cardinal office, Vandeventer and Natural Bridge road.

MISS A. B.—The only Polish newspaper in St. Louis is the Przewodnik Polski, edited by the Polish Publishing Co., 1308 Cass avenue.

ARCHIE.—The McKinley Bridge across the Mississippi River, named for Congressman William B. McKinley of Illinois, was started in the fall of 1907, opened to traffic on Sept. 19, 1910, and formally opened on Nov. 10, 1910.

D. R. S.—The following is a recipe for tomato sauce, without stock: ½ can tomatoes or 1¾ cups fresh stewed tomatoes, 1 slice onion, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper. Cook the onion with the tomatoes 15 minutes, rub through a strainer and add to butter and flour (to which seasonings have been added) cooked together. If the tomatoes are to retain their red color it is necessary to brown the butter and flour together before adding the tomatoes. If the tomatoes are very acid, add a few grains of soda.

COLOR.—In coloring electric-light bulbs and globes two substances suggest themselves as excellent vehicles of color, and both are water soluble, water glass (potassium or sodium silicate) and genatin. For tinting, water soluble aniline colors should be tried. The thickness of the solution must be a matter of experimentation. Prior to dipping the globes they should be made as free as possible from all grease, dirt, etc. The gelatin solution should not be so thick that any appreciable layer of it will form on the surface of the glass, and to prevent cracking, some non-drying material should be added to it, such as glycerine.

PICKWICK.—The poem to which you refer, "The Aim of Life," is taken from "Festus," by Philip James Bailey:

We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths;
In feelings, not in figures on a dial.
We should count time by heart-throbs. He most lives,
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.
And he whose heart beats quickest lives the longest:
Lives in one hour more than in years do some
Whose fat blood sleeps as it slips along their veins.
Life is but a means unto an end; that end,
Beginning, mean, and end to all things—God.
The dead have all the glory of the world.

FRENCH FLAG.—It is, perhaps, too much to expect that eggs packed in any way will be just as satisfactory for table use as the fresh article. The opinion seems to be, however, that those preserved with water glass are superior to most of those preserved otherwise. The packed eggs should be stored in a cool place. If they are placed where it is too warm, silicate deposits on the shell and the eggs do not keep well. Perhaps this is the trouble with your eggs, or perhaps the water glass is too alkaline, as is much of the product offered for sale, and the eggs preserved in such a solution will not keep well. Use only pure water in making the solution, and it is best to boil it and let it cool before mixing with the water glass. The vessel in which you intend to pack the eggs should be clean and sweet.

LEGAL INFORMATION.

(Prepared by a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

J. J. McDONALD.—We would advise you to consult a good patent lawyer.

J. S.—For free legal aid you should go to the Legal Aid Bureau in the Municipal Courts Building, Thirteenth and Market streets.

PROSPECTIVE VOTER.—The women of Missouri will vote for President this fall. The women of California, and Illinois did so in 1916.

H. D.—Since both the divorce and the remarriage took place in Missouri we think that the remarriage would undoubtedly be legal even in Illinois.

T. C.—The recent Pension Act did not apply to Civil War veterans, and so far as we know no such act as you mention was passed at the last session of Congress.

H. E. R.—Unless your wife has really obtained a divorce you are still married to her. If you cannot ascertain definitely that he has done so, you had better file a divorce suit yourself.

MRS. M. C. J.—You can have a deed executed to provide for what you originally contemplated—a life estate to your mother, a life estate to you and then to your daughter in fee simple. We advise this method of settlement.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS.

(Answers prepared by a physician of authority. Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnoses or treatment of individual cases will not be given. Questions that cannot be publicly discussed, if showing evidences of sincerity, will be answered when accompanied by stamped envelope.)

ROBERT GRAY.—If you will repeat your question enclosing a stamped addressed envelope it will be answered.

GRATEFUL.—The condition you describe is due to absorption of the fat in the gland. The rubbing in of a fat such as olive oil or cod liver oil may be tried, but we doubt its giving satisfactory results.

E. C. A.—We cannot give you the information which you ask for in your letter, but if you will address this question to the Health Commission of Hot Springs, no doubt you can secure the information which you wish.

KATE.—Nervousness is an indefinite term, and headache is only a symptom of a derangement acting reflexly on the nerves. Your question is too indefinite; both a nervous condition and a headache may be from different sources. You should consult a physician for a thorough examination, especially for the eyes, nose, teeth, throat and ears.

THANKFUL.—Swelling and puffiness around the ankles is not necessarily a dangerous kidney symptom, but when present, suggests that the condition of the kidneys be ascertained. Whether or not a condition is curable depends on what the trouble is, the swelling being only a symptom. We cannot advise as to what any certain examination would cost, but you can ascertain by asking a physician. The same applies to treatment. Free dispensaries are maintained for those unable to pay. It is very likely you could get better attention from a private physician because he can give you more of his time.

Experienced Saleswomen

HERE'S AN OPPORTUNITY FOR YOU!

We have positions open in many departments for capable and experienced saleswomen. These positions are excellent—among the best to be found nowadays. Your previous experience will stand you in good stead—you can make it worth something to you. Capable saleswomen command top salaries here; they are placed in those departments to which they are best fitted, and the quickness with which they advance depends only on their own industry and ability.

Women and Girls Who Want to Be Saleswomen

Opportunity hasn't overlooked you, either. We have a place for you, and by a little application, you can develop that place into a well-paid and pleasant position. If you want to learn how to sell, we'll teach you, and we'll pay you while you are learning. Can you find a better opportunity?

Take Notice: These positions are not temporary—they are permanent. Those who are looking for work during the summer months only, need not apply.

Applications should be made at superintendent's office, main floor balcany, at 8:30 a. m.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Where to Find the Profiteer.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It is somewhat difficult to classify the real profiteer. The Lever act fails to make this classification clear. A man buys a commodity with an idea that such a commodity will be enhanced in value by conditions and afterwards sells at market price. He cannot be called a profiteer, although his profit may be in excess of 100 per cent, as he took the risk, when he bought, of a declining market, in which case he would have been obliged to sell at a loss.

The profiteer, it seems to me, is one who, by his purchases and manipulations, buys in such quantities as to force the market up to an unusual level in order to sell at a great profit. In fact, any kind of "a corner" on the necessities of life is profiteering or privateering in its worst form. The small man cannot profit much except by a combination with others in his line to keep prices abnormally high, and such combinations should be severely dealt with by the law.

Under the present prices the regular percentage of production will yield 100 per cent more than it would have yielded six years ago, as the prices range from 60 to 200 per cent higher, thus the net profits of the merchant and manufacturer are not excessive when they double their former figure. It must also be taken into consideration that during the periods of inflation and high wages money is spent much more freely, hence a merchant is not only likely to increase his earnings but also to double his trade, in which case his profits may easily run from 200 to 400 per cent higher than in 1914, and at the same time this man should not be accused of profiteering.

A mistake that many merchants have made, and one which might bring them into the profiteering class, is to say to themselves that, on account of the high cost of living, it is necessary to increase the percentage of profit. Increasing the percentage of profit is closer to real profiteering than anything else in the wholesale or retail line, as the original percentages are shown to carry double or treble. They might better be decreased than increased.

The real profiteer is a snake, a dangerous, poisonous snake, who should have his head crushed by the iron heel of the law without mercy, but the place to look for him is not among the small dealers or the small manufacturers, but among those large enough to control an output and its price. Here is where the real trouble exists. CAS.

The Noises of the Night.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Instead of lamenting the loss of fourth place why not start a movement to make St. Louis a better city in which to live.

Our worst evil is noise, especially at night. The blowing of factory and locomotive whistles, ringing of bells, the useless barking dog, crowing rooster, braying donkey, the early milkman with his rattling wagon, his "whoa" and "gid-ap."

Only a very small percentage of our people are in position to leave the city during the summer, when these noises are at their height, making it next to impossible to get sufficient sleep to carry one through the day.

Abolish unnecessary noises.

A CANTGETAWAY.

Bank Clerks' Wages.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Bank clerks work from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. for an average salary of $90 per month.

I am a married man with two children. My wife, myself and two children are trying to live on this monthly income. The purchasing power of the dollar has decreased so that this salary is just about equivalent to $45 per month as compared with a few years ago.

The officials say they are paying the average of other banks throughout the country, but they do not say they themselves could live on such an amount. There are several young men who work with me who, from their talk, I would say are more than anxious to get married. However, they naturally hesitate on account of the salaries they receive, as they know that you cannot get by with such a salary.

There is a bank clerks' union, but the clerks are afraid to join for fear they will be discharged like the two young men at the Federal Reserve Bank were discharged.

Do we have to join a union against our employers' wishes in order to obtain a living wage?

A lady stockholder says: "Why don't they pay you boys more money. I don't expect such large dividends from my investment?"

The officials must wake up soon or they will have a strong union of bank clerks to contend with. It seems there is no other way to get just wages.

NOT SUFFICIENT FUNDS.

Stay With the Party.

SIDNEY AVERILL.
Columbia, Ill.

QUESTIONS FOR SENATOR REED.

Senator Reed has put six questions to the senatorial candidates in the State which he demands shall be answered by yes or no. The questions embody his objections to the League of Nations and, by inference, to points in the peace covenant of Versailles which would be a menace to American sovereignty and vital interests.

A candidate might answer no to all the questions, yet vote to ratify the peace treaty with reasonable reservations which would not impair its integrity or its peace purpose. But answering categorically, yes or no, he would be put in the position of damning the peace covenant or supporting an un-American and dangerous treaty.

In his speech at St. Joseph Senator Reed declared he was a Democrat and "will support the Democratic ticket, despite the party's platform on the League." In the next breath he makes the League the paramount issue and damns it as a conspiracy against the United States which would forfeit our sovereignty, entangle us in Europe's quarrels and menace the republic with war and destruction.

We ask Senator Reed three simple, direct questions:

How can you support the Democratic party and candidates in the election, both pledged to ratify the peace treaty, with clarifying reservations, and damn the treaty as a menace to America?

Will your campaign against the peace covenant, which the Democratic party is pledged to ratify, contribute to the success or the defeat of the party?

Do you want the Democratic ticket to be elected?

MR. BABLER'S $50 CHECK.

Members of the local Woman's Republican Club are reported to be seeking advice as to the disposition of the $50 in Lowden money which they received from Mr. Babler. It is tainted money. No disposition that could possibly be made of it would be as commendable as to start it back over the long route by which it was obtained, via Mrs. Butler, Mr. Babler, Mr. Lowden's manager and Mr. Lowden himself. Some practices on the part of representative women on their first entrance on political activities have not seemed to jibe with their professions. They have certainly made a decidedly unfavorable impression and disappointed expectation.

This unfavorable impression and disappointment should not be deepened by retaining the check. Tell Mr. Babler to take back his gold.

THE BLANK-CARTRIDGE TOLL.

Seven deaths have resulted in St. Louis and vicinity since the Fourth of July from tetanus caused by blank-cartridge wounds. In all those instances, so far as known, the Coroner's warning to treat the most trivial powder burns with anti-tetantus serum was ignored. Whether those deaths could have been prevented cannot be stated, but the lamentable fact remains that a precaution which should have been taken was omitted.

There should be no such omission next year. But a resolution to that effect does not complete safety arrangements for next year. As is well known, the sale of blank cartridges is prohibited by ordinance in St. Louis. There is no such prohibition in some of the county towns. Possibly a few surreptitious sales may have been made in St. Louis, but police inquiry reveals that the purchases were made beyond the city limits. No further argument should be necessary to persuade the governments of our suburban communities to prohibit the sales of such explosives. Until that is done the St. Louis ordinance is largely nullified.

Seven deaths plead eloquently for a return to a safe and sane Fourth of July and for city and county co-operation in whatever restrictions may be required.

WANTED: A 36TH STATE.

The refusal of Gov. P. W. Clement to call a special suffrage session of the Vermont Legislature will cause keen disappointment to many women who have looked on Vermont as a dependence in the event that other Governors and other states should fail them. However, the Republicans have done their duty fairly well heretofore, and we seem to have reached a point where it is some Democratic state's move. The Chicago platform proudly asserted that of the 35 states which have now ratified the amendment, the Republicans furnished 29 and the Democrats only six. Political sentiment is not so one-sided in this country as to enable the Republicans to claim either that they have absolute control of the 29 classified as Republican states or that they supplied all the initiative to affirmative action in the 29. Still, in a fair lineup the effort is shown to have been much more productive of results in the Republican than in the Democratic states. Are the Governors and legislators and party leaders in the Democratic states oblivious to their responsibility in this matter—a responsibility not only to the women of the country, but to the future of the Democratic party?

We have come to a time when a thirty-sixth state seems more important than the entire 35 which have ratified to date. If the Democrats come forward with that thirty-sixth state, any disparity in the comparative showing to this time as between the two parties will be forgotten.

FRANCE'S STATESMANLIKE PREMIER.

Terrific attacks are being directed from Paris on Premier Millerand, now at Spa attending the meeting of the Supreme Council.

He is charged with being a catspaw in the hands of Premier Lloyd George, with being bamboozled into concession after concession from which no one gains anything but England, and, in general, with playing a poor part in a game in which the British unite with German intriguers against France.

In the actual decisions reached at Spa little is found to justify criticism so savage. Herr Stinnes' relapse into typical ante-bellum German arrogance was sternly rebuked by the presiding officer. Lloyd George told the Germans their duty in unqualified terms. The ultimatum on German military forces compels the Berlin authorities to reduce their army to 150,000 men by Oct. 1 and to 100,000 by Jan. 1. The ultimatum on coal calls for the delivery of 2,000,000 tons of coal a month, whereas the treaty stipulation was for only 29,000,000 tons a year.

The reduction cannot be looked upon as a great concession, and what other course remained but to consent to some concession? As the German delegates remarked, council ukases dig no coal and the German labor situation is difficult and floods have caused delays.

M. Millerand's offense lies not so much in what has been done at Spa as in what he has said. He has affirmed that the allies "intend to treat Germany liberally, if Germany can prove that modifications in the original treaty are necessary." He added that the "allies have no thought of chastising Germany." He has even promised that the allies would "help her toward recovery, provided Germany is equally determined to execute her treaty obligations."

It is because of these utterances that the Premier's political opponents see an opportunity to form a combine against him and hurl him from power. And still, what he has said is of statesmanlike quality. He is the first Frenchman in responsible station to express a judgment from things as they are and not from things as France would like to have them. If his enemies succeed in their plot and supersede him, in what better status will his successor find himself?

The allies must help Germany. Its people form a great moiety of the population of Europe outside of Russia. Disaster and poverty there mean disaster and poverty for the rest of the continent. If merciless allied exactions cause the fall of the present Berlin Government, it will be followed either by a Pan-German or by a Bolshevist Government, the one as menacing to Germany's neighbors as the other.

It may be that the bourbons never learn anything, but, just the same, the Republican campaign this year will completely omit that "Golden Special" of 1916.

MR. DICKEY'S "TICKLED PINK" APPEAL.

"If you were a Democrat," asks Treasurer Walter S. Dickey of the Republican State Central Committee, "wouldn't you be tickled pink at the prospect of a continuance of the present row among Missouri Republicans? If you were a Democrat, would you complain about the attitude of certain St. Louis and Kansas City daily newspapers, aiding and abetting a struggle for leadership among Missouri Republicans?"

What he calls a "row" is only a just demand on the part of the decent Republicans that a number of unworthy leaders who have made Missouri influence in national politics a matter of barter and sale, not only this year, but in many prior years, shall be repudiated and expelled from the positions they have dishonored. The row can be quickly settled by repudiating and expelling them. Democrats having only the prospects of their own party in view have no cause for complaint, indeed, have every reason to be "tickled pink," as long as there is a failure to repudiate and expel them. A refusal to turn the rascals out will not insure party harmony, and if it did the harmony would not be worth much.

And the complete disappearance of Will Hays from the campaign limelight is a mystery. Is it possible that Senator Penrose is sitting on the dynamic chairman of the national committee?

Declaring that the President wants a vindication of his foreign policy at the polls, Senator Harding confesses that he never saw so unreasonable a chap as Woodrow Wilson.

Since the consumption of coffee has almost doubled under prohibition, it is a fair question whether the Brazilian coffee planter has done the right thing by the Anti-Saloon League.

Citizens who want to know what an imp of darkness or angel of light either of the candidates is should subscribe for any old, reliable, label-serving party organ.

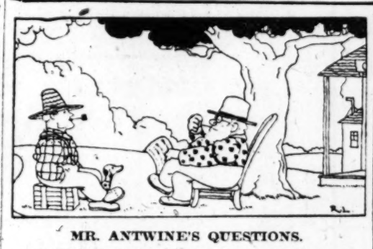
SUCH STUFF AS WARS ARE MADE OF.

JUST A MINUTE.

Written for the POST-DISPATCH by Clark McAdams



MR. ANTWINE'S QUESTIONS.

"I DON'T think Senator Reed ought to get away with the questions he has put to candidates for senatorial nominations in Missouri," Mr. Antwine said.

"I think we ought to be quite as insincere with him as he is with those who aspire to sit where he has rattled around like a bean in a coal bucket, and I have therefore prepared for the various aspirants to the senatorship the following questions to which the Senator is to answer yes:

"1. Since the League of Nations is the only serious attempt the world has ever made to prevent war, by which the earth has been devastated from King Sargon I to Woodrow Wilson, are you against the league and therefore in favor of continuing war?

"2. Inasmuch as you claim that by joining the league we would be surrendering our sovereignty to foreign nations, an act which would destroy the republic, do you not therefore believe that the more than twenty countries already in the league have surrendered their sovereignty to foreign nations and are each and every one doomed?

"3. Whereas you insist upon saying that England has six votes in the league to our one, though you know this to be a deception serving only the purpose of sophistry, are you willing as a matter of fairness to have your statement in this instance characterized as insincere?

"4. It being quite plain that we would be the biggest country in such a league, and therefore have the least to fear, don't you think it looks silly for us to be afraid to venture what more than twenty other countries have already ventured without turning a hair?

"If the Senator will answer yes to every one of those questions, I don't doubt at all that the candidates for the senatorial nominations and pretty much everybody else will admit him to good standing in the campaign. Otherwise I can't see what right he has to question anybody or participate in the campaign.

"We ought to throw him out just as he was thrown out at Joplin and Frisco. He must be accustomed by this time to moving outward hurriedly."

A reader begs us not to give up our fight for the apostrophe. He says it is coming back, and he wishes to give us credit for this. Innumerable signs of improvement attract his attention, and we believe ourselves the tide has turned. We had "Browns' Box Score" on the front page of our paper last night, which was a good sign; then a man who had a sign made recently wrote in and told us that he had refused to pay for it if the painter got him in the sign column with it. That principle generally applied in Missouri would boost our educational rating among the states. Signs have not put us in thirty-second place, but we dare say the apostrophe alone has cost us a couple of moves. We are obliged to our reader. If he knew our apostrophe hounds he would not imagine that we would quit. They are straining at the leash every minute, and week by week the quarry grows warier. It has been something worth doing. Mulvihills', oh Twelfth street, has a whole electric bulb entirely devoted to the apostrophe, and correctly placed, at that—which never happened before. We're winning out.

England is curious to know why the United States is buying so many guns and shells, our purchases from the British having been so heavy of late as to cause comment. We imagine it has no greater significance than the disposition of the army and navy not to get caught again as we were caught by the war with Germany. Mr. Bryan's celebrated assurance that under proper provocation "a million men would spring to arms over night" in this country fairly expresses our former attitude as to what is necessary to go to war. There were some things we needed that we never got at all in the brief time our participation in the war with Germany lasted. Much of what we had we got from our allies. There is no war upon our horizon. Some of the oil and mining people think they are going to bring us around to setting Mexico to rights, but we are not going to do it. What is happening is merely a natural tendency upon the part of the army and navy to be better prepared than they were the last time. We dare say the British have done the same thing. Except for the French, who had something to shoot, we would all be watching the Kaiser strut around daring somebody else to fight him now instead of watching him saw wood. That is the sort of world we have without an international society such as we are trying to get going under the League of Nations, and we cannot wonder that the army and navy have no great assurance that we are going to have a different world. The Senate is responsible for this; and those are, so to speak, the Senate's orders for arms and ammunition. The way to stop those purchases is to suppress Lodge, Johnson, Borah, Reed, Penrose, Brandegee and the Republican ticket.

In the lexicon of Jamie Reed alien seems to be an epithet, though we must act together as citizens of a war-cursed world if we are to have peace. There was a time when in the same way anyone outside one's family was an alien, and doubtless there were Jamie Reeds in that time who used alien in that sense as an epithet. There is not a hair's difference between the feudalism that was and the sort of nationalism of which Jamie is speaking.

LOVE'S DIVINITY.

HOW soon the smile of Love can change the world.
What do I want with thrones? With toppling gods
Or any other impulse from the stars?
Here is fond Nature made angelical,
Singing diviner hymns into my soul,
Spreading the richest perfumes at my feet.
Fair reflexes, my twin divinities!
Therefore gaze not upon the wanton night
And make me jealous of her amorous stars;
For glorious as their twilight, surely
This could be stolen only from your eyes.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

TREATMENT OF PRISONERS.

From Leslie's.

SHERIFF Frank H. Tracy of Montpelier, Vt., has established an unusual plan for treatment of prisoners. All of the prisoners serving terms have jobs about the town. Half of what they make goes to the county for their maintenance, and the other half to the prisoner's family, or himself, if he is unmarried. They are let out of their cells in the morning to go to work, and they go alone. They return alone, and going to their cell doors, unlock them with the keys obtained from the wall of the Sheriff's office. They return to their cells, and in closing their cell doors lock themselves in. Back in 1907, Sheriff Tracy put his system into effect. He realized that the evil of the system then in vogue, and still generally in vogue elsewhere, is that prisoners sentenced for misdemeanors have been kept in idleness with nothing to do but corrupt one another. He saw that prisoners left jail worse men and women than when they entered. He saw that for a prisoner to regain his self-respect he must be employed at remunerative labor. He had his troubles. He was criticised, even villified, according to Dr. W. H. Singerland, who was sent to Vermont by the Russell Sage Foundation to investigate; but he won his point. In 1915 the Vermont Legislature passed a law permitting any Sheriff in the State to use the same system. It was adopted with modifications, but not very marked ones, at the State Prison in Windsor. The "Tracy system," perhaps better known as the "Vermont system," is now in effect to a greater or less degree in Connecticut, Delaware, Ohio and Wisconsin.

EFFECT OF BOLSHEVIK RULE.

BARON EUGENE DE SCHELKING, in Leslie's.

THE reasons for the rapid progress of Bolshevism in Russia have been seriously studied by the world's press. On the one side was blamed a German intrigue prudently conducted, and on the other the mistake of the allies due to their egoistic and tortuous policy toward the Russian problem. Both opinions have certain good grounds, but it seems to me that the principal causes of the success of Lenine, Trotzy & Co. must be explained through the psychology of the Russian people, which has been overlooked by the opinion of the world. Exactly in this psychology one will find the key to the riddle—to the unexpected success of Bolshevism in Russia, as well as to the certain downfall of this regime in the near future. The Russian in his heart has always been an anarchist, and the observation of law has always been unknown to him. But while he always professes anarchistic sentiments towards his neighbor's property, he takes good care not to apply them to his own.

Therefore, when the Bolsheviats decreed the expropriation of the lands owned by the church, aristocracy and middle classes, the peasants eagerly welcomed this principle and put it into practice. The systematic pillage of the chateaux and villas of the "bourjoui" was executed to order. But when the Bolshevists exacted part of the products of these newly expropriated lands, the peasants became obdurate and lent a deaf ear to the communistic theories. The anarchist of yesterday gave way to the proprietor of today! This, in my opinion, is the main explanation of the Bolsheviats's success, and also of their downfall.

The HEART'S PASSION by BURTON KLINE

The Story of Three Men, a Woman and a Splendid Dream.

EARLEIGH glanced at his watch impatiently. Already the waiters had guessed his secret and, with many a wink among themselves, abetted it—as well they might, for he ordered magnificently and tipped in the same measure. Nevertheless, to provide a better excuse for his lingering, Earleigh ordered another coffee.

"I think she'll be on, sir," his waiter whispered confidentially as he scribbled the order in his book.

"Who?" Earleigh looked up blankly.

"I beg your pardon, sir." Such a patron was not to be offended, and the waiter sped away on his errand.

Let alone to his cigar, Earleigh put himself back in the mood when he had first heard her. He remembered the rainy evening. He remembered his boredom. The witticism from Oscar Wilde that he had read that day came back to him: "There are two great tragedies in life—wanting a thing and getting it." That had hurt. It was so pat to his case. So far everything in the world had dropped at Earleigh's feet except two things—something worth a man's doing and a gift for doing it.

Handsome, cultivated, with an air of distinction about him, Earleigh had need of but a drop more of energy to have counted. Now he was sick of the role of passive appreciation. At 34 he began to feel old. Yet all about him were these people, laughing like children over their food and the show—because it had cost them effort. The very dancer and comedians tore him with envy in having even the silly specialty in which they excelled. Earleigh had dropped into the cabaret to escape from himself. And he had not escaped.

Then he heard her. A tinny piano set up familiar chords, and a voice began the Shadow song. For a while he had not troubled to look at the singer. When he did turn it was not at the finished artistry of her singing, so oddly out of place in such a setting; it was at some odd note in her voice, a note even more outlandishly out of place there, a note that had haunted him ever since. All that he could only feel, that voice was putting into exquisite sound. It said to him, "See what I possess—and only this to do!" And when he turned to look the dark proud face of her said the same. She finished amid a great clapping of hands. The most casual listener was aware of having heard something remarkable. Yet without knowing it she had sung to an audience of one.

The next evening Earleigh had come there again, and the next and the next. This was the sixth consecutive evening he was there. The waiter had long returned with his coffee, and the coffee was cold and untouched. Presently she came on for her turn—the same two excerpts from opera, followed by a ditty of the day, with another and another for encores. A pair of fools near him mimicked her in a high falsetto. But, as before, Earleigh heard and saw nothing but the slender, dark figure on the floor. And this time he scarcely did that. She was wearing a rose at her bosom—not the sheaf she had tipped a waiter to take her, but unmistakably one rose from his sheaf.

After "Mlle. Jacqueline"—for that was all he had learned of her, from the program—the rest was banality to Earleigh. Yet now he waited, as he had come to wait, for the finishing touches. In a few minutes she came out to a far table in a corner, for the meager little supper that appeared to be part of her wage; and lastly the foreign-looking chap, with the shifty eyes and the mincing manner, who impressed Earleigh so disagreeably, sat down with her, ate with her, and took her away. Twice Earleigh had followed them out as closely as he dared and saw them swallowed up outside in the Broadway blaze and blair and blather. This evening he followed them again and hated the foreigner a little less. Unmistakably that flower at her corsage was one of his roses.

Does a man so stirred make no effort to meet the lady? Earleigh made himself an opportunity on the very next evening. She was supping alone. The foreign-looking chap had not arrived. Evidently the weather had discouraged him. Earleigh left his chair to go to her, sauntering indifferently not to draw the attention of those he knew.

"Will madamoiselle accept a word of thanks for the pleasure she has given? And may I sit down and offer you more?"

She looked up quickly, critically, and then decided, "Oh, certainly, monsieur. It is very good of you."

Earleigh brightened in agreeable surprise. She said "monsieur," but she spoke it in perfect English, and with the cadence of cultivation.

"This is the seventh time I have heard you, mademoiselle. May I say it has surprised me to hear such wonderful artistry in a—where one is not apt to expect it?"

Her face clouded, as at a reminder of something she preferred to forget, but she recovered at once. "Oh, monsieur, it is—what you say?—'all in the day's work.' But it is good to be appreciated."

He commended points in her singing with a knowledge that plainly pleased and astonished her. Laughingly, she told him of the passages that still frightened her. "Yes?" and "O, thank you so much," came gladly from her lips, an eager interest to her eyes. Yet Earleigh noticed for the first time the thinness of her cheeks and her pathetic interest also in the tiny salad on her plate. He would have offered to order more, but that something told him she would have resented it then. He fed her with praise instead.

"I don't believe I exaggerate, madamoiselle, if I say that such a voice and such skill belong unmistakably in opera!"

Again the cloud in her eyes, and with a murmur of thanks she hastened the conversation back to the technique of singing. A lively 10 minutes they made of it, then Earleigh rose to go.

"You will be expecting"—— He left her to finish it.

"I am expecting my fiancé. Ah, here he is now. Let me make you acquainted with Tullio Genaro, Monsieur—Monsieur"——

"Earleigh is my name."

"Signor Genaro is in the export business," she added, to help them along. Signor Genaro listened stiffly for a few minutes, till he found an opening to say, "Come, come, my dear, it is time to be going."

Earleigh turned away with a strange glow in him. She was no disappointment. What she appeared to be, she was. And the foreigner chap was only a fiance.

The next evening he missed her. She had gone to another engagement, and it was a week before he found her in another cabaret. This time he chose a table directly beside the dancing floor, and nodded pleasantly when she came on. And he was pleased the more at the troubled look in her face as she saw him. Clearly she was not seeking gallant attentions.

She was smiling, nevertheless, when he sought out her table again. No woman is above a compliment, courteously intended, and this time Earleigh stayed longer. This time, too, she consented to join him in another bit of food. And again he spoke of opera and of the ways of entering it, since that seemed the only approach to her. And again her dark eyes sparkled as she listened almost as hungrily as she ate.

"Have you never thought of trying it, mademoiselle?"

Her swift glance said, "Oh, have I?" Her weary voice said: "I have to put the thought away from me, monsieur."

"But there are ways. I happen to have command of them. And you have the voice. You have"——

"It is for another reason, monsieur." Mademoiselle looked away from his stare of surprise. "What a lovely woman over there! And what jewels!" she hastened to say. And the talk remained among trivial things, until Earleigh felt it time to be leaving.

"You will be expecting Mr. Genaro in a moment."

"No; tonight my father is coming to take me, monsieur."

Was it relief, or pride, that Earleigh thought he heard in her tone? "May I stay and meet him?" he asked at once.

"Certainly, monsieur."

"I want to tell him about you," he laughed, and as quickly sobered. The troubled look had come back to her eyes.

"Oh, you must not!" she cried, with an intensity that startled him.

Who was this girl? It was more than refinement of feature that made her beauty. There was pride of race in her. It spoke in her accent, in her poise. Clearly a personage, hungry for all that rightfully belonged to her. There was her real beauty—in that patient hunger in her voice and her eyes.

"Oh, pardon me, monsieur," she caught him in the midst of his stare. "I have been rude. I have neglected to thank you for your flowers. And then you were generously speaking of my fitness for opera. And I told you I was not to think of it—for the present. I am assisting my father."

"In this way?"

"In this way. But I hope it will not be for long."

"Oh, he is ill?"

"Far from it, monsieur!" Mademoiselle laughed at his hopeful gaze. "Some day you may hear of my father. He has great expectations. If they should be realized—When they are realized"—— She ended with a glance about that said, "Then, good-by to this!" "Ah, here he comes!" Her glance had found him.

The meeting was brief for Earleigh. From the thicket of gilded cables about them a hurried figure emerged, for all the world like a character in some old story, with flowing white hair, sweeping white mustaches, a pointed white beard, a very Quixote, except that he was thick and short. In one hand he flourished a broad black felt hat; under his arm he hugged a fiddle case.

"Ah, monsieur! Delighted!" He swept Earleigh a bow, on his being presented. That was all. "Come, come, child!" He turned to mademoiselle. "Where is your cloak? We have only just time to catch the last ferry!"

Murmuring an adieu, Mlle. Jacqueline gave Earleigh her hand, saying more, as was her wont, with her eyes. "Monsieur, you are disappointed. You have been kind. You are the only one who has ever been interested in me. And that has been sweet. But let us look at the facts. You live in one world and I in another. These impossible attractions are really too bad." Aloud Earleigh was hearing: "Good-by, monsieur; it has been so good of you; thank you so much."

It was a long good-by. On the next evening she was gone from the cabaret, and nowhere else to be found. In vain, and for weeks, he trailed her. He watched the ferries, watched the newspapers, thinking and wondering. Her one worn gown returned to his memory. And her health must be as frail as her purse. He remembered her pallor, the light cough that sometimes escaped her, and her pitiful hunger. Perhaps she was ill. Six months elapsed. But in her absence there was another discovery that Earleigh made. He had an interest in life.

* * * * * * * *

Of course, he found her—saw her one day, at a distance, mounting to the Sixth avenue elevated out of the crowds in Herald Square—traced her to Staten Island, of all places—searched its extent for days. Once he fancied he saw her turning a corner into a narrow little way in St. George's; but the figure was too thin and slight, too poorly clad, and the street too shabby. But a day arrived with its clew.

The snow of the early morning had soon become a cold sleet, yet Earleigh, chilled and muddied from head to foot, warmed to the sight of that sign when he saw it, in the very little street that appeared too shabby for her, but not now so shabby as he swept with a glance its rows of little old brick houses, their roofs frosted like cakes, their fronts latticed with icicle lacework. This was the place. That sign was conclusive. Nailed beside an arched gateway leading to spaces unknown, it proclaimed:

Atelier de
M. le Chevalier de Savarac
Facteur du Violon.

It belonged. It fitted. And drawing his dripping coat about him, Earleigh pushed through the ancient gate. At a little distance it opened into a tiny court where two gaunt trees glistened ebony-black in their coating of sleet. Facing the court was a tiny house, its four little windows sending through their fringe of icicles the whiteness of their curtains. Beside the narrow door the sign was repeated, with the addition:

Two Flights Up.

Without hesitation Earleigh entered, but not without plaguing his mind, on his way up the stairs, for some plausible errand in case he had made a mistake, or she happened not to be there. Without hesitation he knocked on the solitary door at the end of the passage.

What was his surprise when the door softly opened, of its own will, and he entered a truly remarkable room. Void of human tenantry, it was crowded instead with handsome old furniture. Old rugs, whose pattern still stood forth under years of wear, made a ruddy map of the floor. Almost as thickly the walls were covered with dustry old prints and paintings, with old shields and weapons, and musical instruments of a bygone day. An iron stove in front of an unused fireplace lighted the room with a fiery smile from its open door. Two jars of faded flowers stood on the mantel above it. From the ceiling a dozen or more fiddles in paper bags hung down on wires, like the wives of some elfin Bluebeard.

There was a moment of silence. Then a gruff voice said from some hidden region: "Is that you?"

While Earleigh was debating what to answer, the voice said again: "Oh, it is you, is it? Well, you fool, set it down. I'll pay you next week. Or I'll be out—when I get good and ready."

Earleigh was further amused as the door behind him slowly closed, again of its own volition. His next astonishment came when an unnoticed door at the end of the room swung open and framed the unforgettable figure of Jacqueline's father, in an apron that covered all but his Quixotic face. This was the place.

At sight of his unremembered visitor the white-haired apparition whipped off his enveloping habit and came forward smiling and bowing.

"Ah! Excuse me, monjour!" he said suddenly affecting the extreme of accents. "I thought monjour was the expressman. Mille pardons! What will monjour command of me?"

To gain time Earleigh spoke the first thing that came to mind. "Are you the Chevalier de Savarac, of whom I have heard so much?"

"Je suis le Chevalier de Savarac, oui."

"Your cleverness begins at your very door, I see."

"A device of my own, monjour—to save my time," the old fellow said sententiously. Then he added, as Earleigh's face fell. "But it is not to save me from those who have reason to be here."

Earleigh laughed as he answered: "I hope I have reason to be here, monsieur."

"What can I do for monjour?"

"Well"—Earleigh's eyes sought the ceiling for thought, and seeing the fiddles there, he said: "Do you think you could fit me out with a good violin?"

"Ah, monjour! Sit here, if you please."

At last the chevalier had a clew to his visitor. A nuisance, but a customer. "It will be a miracle if I cannot mak' to please monjour."

Peeping Pansy Fairy Tales

BY MARIE, QUEEN OF ROUMANIA

SOOTYPOOTYPOOF APPEARS AGAIN.

MOTHER GRIZZLES had been taken leave of, and Pansy's party had increased by one; the obstreperous Cussy was following her every footstep with a sticky persistence, both comic and provoking.

"What shall we do with Cussy all the time?" asked Pansy of the Elf.

"Oh, leave him alone! His own behavior will show us how we shall have to treat him. Quite at the bottom of your heart, you know, little Pansy, you are more flattered than annoyed at his persistency."

"Perhaps I am," admitted Pansy. "Really and truly, he is an attractive little fellow, although he's naughty. And then it's amusing to be followed about by a bear. Before I began having such wonderful adventures I often thought how nice it would be to play with a cub."

"There you see!" cried Pinky-Panky; "and now you've got what you want!"

"I suppose it was the fuss he made about sunshine that made me object to his coming with us," explained Pansy.

"All the more flattering for you—shows that he had fallen in love with you; lovers are always jealous!"

"Oh, don't talk nonsense," protested the little girl.

"There's no nonsense about it!"

"Well, I won't argue with you," sighed Pansy. "I am very happy, anyhow, and I seem to be living in a sort of wonderful dream."

"There are still many adventures ahead of you, little Pansy."

"All the better!" cried Pansy.

Suddenly the forest silence was torn by a loud cry of "Caw, caw!" that sounded extraordinarily familiar to Pansy's ear.

"What's that?" she asked, reining in her pony.

"That melodious voice is well known to us somehow, isn't it?" chuckled the Imp.

"Where is the creature," cried Pansy.

"Here I am!" answered an extraordinary croaky voice from above.

Pansy looked up and there, upon the dead branch of a pine tree, sat Sootypootypuff, as black and ironical looking as ever.

"So now I can also understand your voice," said Pansy.

"I hope it sounds more melodious to you than it did a short time ago," croaked the crow.

"Could you understand all I said even then?" asked Pansy, a faint blush mounting to her cheeks.

"I did not need Dame Dammydimmydoo's blue shoes to understand little-girl language; and if I remember rightly, you would not quite admit then that my beak was my nose."

"I am not quite sure of it now," laughed Pansy.

"Well, it's of no importance, anyhow; my beak is a very essential part of my face, and that can suffice for the moment. I've got a message for you."

"From whom?"

"From my mistress."

"From Dame Dammydimmydoo?"

"Well, she's my mistress; "is she not?"

"Yes, yes; but what does she want you to tell me?"

"She sends you her greetings, and says that soon she'll meet you."

"Where?"

"Oh, that Dam Dammydimmydoo never says!"

"Is this forest hers?" asked Pansy.

"It may be hers," was the crow's enigmatic answer.

"She is a very wonderful old lady," exclaimed Pansy.

"I knew her before you did," croaked the crow.

"I supose you did. You are both very old, are you not?"

"That's no business of yours," scolded the bird.

"No, not exactly; but it interests me," said Pansy.

"Then keep your interest to yourself."

"You're not very polite," protested Pansy.

"But I am black," said the crow.

"And cross," said Pansy.

"And I have a beak instead of a nose," said the crow.

"And could be nice if you wanted," said Pansy.

"But I don't want to, you see; it pleases me to be old and black and cross and wise and ugly, and to have wings and a beak and a sharp tongue, and to be rude with inquisitive little girls."

"Please, Pinky-Panky," cried Pansy in a mock despair, "Won't you do the talking with Spootypootypuff? Somehow we can't get on."

"Your conversation may not have been pleasant," chuckled the Imp, "but it was funny; it was, in fact, as good as a play; I therefore regret to see it come to an end."

"But it was a hopeless conversation," moaned Pansy.

"Nothing is hopeless," croaked the crow.

Pansy made no answer.

"She is thinking of King Solomon," laughed the Imp.

"Of King Solomon?" exclaimed Pansy in astonishment.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath," quoted the Imp, capering about.

"You are all too clever for me," complained Pansy.

"But I am not, I am not; I am comfortably stupid," grunted Cussy, looking up at his love with adoring eyes and tremulous snout.

"No, you are a good honest little fellow," agreed Pansy, and Tim said, "Wow, wow!" just so that he might join in the conversation.

"Now, Spootypootypuff, as you have been provoking to your heart's content, you might tell us if our mistress expects us in any special place," said Pinky-Panky.

The crow put his head on one side in a most annoying manner and flapping his wings several times, with a final "caw, caw!" flew away without answering.

"Well I never!" exclaimed Pinky-Panky, slapping his sides with amusement.

"He's simply horrid!" cried Pansy indignantly; "horrid and rude and ugly. I'm very pleased he's flown away; but where do you think Dame Dammydimmydoo wanted us to go to?"

"Well, it's not our fault if we do not know. We'll just keep on as we were going, we are in no particular hurry, and this forest is full of all one's heart can desire. It is huge, you know."

"I see like an enormous nosegay of luminous flowers."

"Well, does it not remind you of something?"

"Yes, it does; but I can't quite remember what."

"Think hard."

Pansy knitted her brows. "Oh! I know!" she exclaimed, suddenly; "from afar; that great glow of color reminds me of Wobblewibblewoo! What is it, Pinky-Panky?"

"Put your pony at a gallop and we'll soon be there."

All trembling with excitement Pansy did as she was bid, first giving Pinky-Panky a lift onto Sunshine's back; then setting her beloved pony at a gallop, she tore through the trees toward that luminous spot of color.

Tim and Cussy followed as best they could, but their legs being short and their bodies heavy they could not keep up with the pace their little mistress was going.

Activities of Women.

Mrs. I. D. McClurg is probably the only woman in New York City engaged in the trucking business.

The number of women wage earners in the United States has increased 50 per cent during the last 10 years.

In the United States there are now 11 women members of State Legislatures in five different States.

Hundreds of soldier-farmers' wives are being trained in domestic science and women's farm activities by the Home Branch of the Soldiers' Settlement Board in Montreal, Canada.

Maxims of a Modern Maid

—BY—

Marguerite Mooers Marshall.

WHEN Gabriel blows his trump the average wife will murmur, sleepily, but automatically: "Dear, you really must get up. You know you told me to call you at this time."

Every wife's destiny: To be the picker-up of her husband's unconsidered trifles.

How long before the movies will catch up with the revelations of a recent murder and feature the male vampire, "who never lost sight of any woman he once met"?

Add eternal mysteries. Why brunettes wear black hats and why blondes wear any other kind.

Of course, in the past, every woman was publicly worried and furious when her husband came home late, yet she had a certain private assurance in realizing that he probably tarried at the club or the corner place. But since prohibition she simply doesn't know WHERE he is.

The chief flaw in the "sweet home woman" is that she loses her sense of proportion. A mislaid butter knife, a child's cap out of place, loom larger on her horizon than the League of Nations or the next President, and when the groceryman forgets to deliver the strawberries she is more disturbed than she would be over the announcement of a new European war.

Jealousy is the T N T of the emotions.

LOVE'S thermometer goes down as the weather man's goes up, and summer romance is mostly light without heat.

Now that the Supreme Court has upheld the constitutionality of prohibition, a drink will probably cost as much as 25 cents more in New York.

When a woman admires a sunset, a poem or a hat a man calls it "gush," but when he uses the same adjectives about a steak he merely is showing healthy enthusiasm.

The trouble with living in the suburbs is that if you ignore your neighbors they think you are conceited, and if you don't ignore them you know you are bored.

The timid partridge, the shy deer, the sensitive plant—all are miracles of virile courage compared to the eligible man in this leap year open season for bachelors and without even a bar left in which to "hole up."

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Old Man Coyote's Second Surprise

By Thornton W. Burgess

To be sure is a mistake
The smartest folks sometimes make.
—Old Man Coyote.

OLD MAN COYOTE trotted through the Green Forest so upset by his failure to catch Peter Rabbit after waiting for him nearly all night that he didn't keep as sharp a watch as usual with the result that he missed a chance to catch Whitefoot the Wood Mouse, and a few minutes later went right past Mrs. Grouse without seeing her until with a roar of her stout wings she was in the air and safe. These things didn't improve his temper. He was hungry and disappointed.

There was just one thing that consoled Old Man Coyote. He was sure that no one knew or even would know how Peter Rabbit had fooled him by his unexpected dive into Jerry Muskrat's house under his very nose. Since he was sure that Peter hadn't come out and that Jerry Muskrat had been there after Peter entered, he was certain that Jerry had put an end to Peter. He didn't see how it could possibly be otherwise.

By the time Old Man Coyote reached the Green Meadows the Jolly Little Sunbeams were kissing the flowers awake. Old Man Coyote hurried. He ought to have been home in the Old Pasture before this. He didn't feel at all comfortable out in the open in broad daylight. But though he was in a hurry he went just enough out of his way to take him close to the dear Old Briar-patch. You see he was hungry and the crafty old sinner thought he might be able to surprise little Mrs. Peter Rabbit or one of her babies outside the dear Old Briar-patch.

But again he was disappointed. His nose told him that Mrs. Peter had been outside the dear Old Briar-patch as far as a certain patch of sweet clover some time during the night, but she was nowhere to be seen and he knew that she was safe at home among the brambles. He was preparing to hurry on when a sudden thought popped into his head. He turned and trotted to the very edge of the dear Old Briar-patch. He peered in among the bushes and brambles, but they were too thick for him to see anyone.

"Mrs. Peter! Oh, Mrs. Peter!" he called and cocked his head to one side, while he listened for an answer. But there was no answer. He hadn't really expected one.

"Mrs. Peter," he called again after a moment, "I've brought you some sad news. Peter will never come home again."

"That depends, Mr. Coyote. That depends. He rather expects to come home frequently," said a voice from the midst of a thick tangle of brambles.

Old Man Coyote jumped as if he had suddenly stepped on a sharp thorn and on his face was the funniest look. He knew that voice. It was Peter Rabbit's voice. But it couldn't be. Even if Jerry Muskrat hadn't killed Peter he couldn't possibly be over here in the dear Old Briar-patch. Old Man Coyote was certain of that. Han't he kept Peter a prisoner in Jerry Muskrat's house on the bank of the Laughing Brook all night long?

"Wh—wh—who is speaking?" stuttered Old Man Coyote, and lay flat down so as to peer under the brambles. Then he rubbed his eyes just as he had done when Jerry Muskrat had appeared where he had expected to see Peter Rabbit, for now he saw Peter himself. That is, it was Peter or his ghost, and Old Man Coyote didn't believe in ghosts.

"I hope you had a pleasant night over on the bank of the Laughing Brook," said the voice and then chuckled.

There wasn't any doubt in Old Man Coyote's mind then. This was Peter Rabbit sure enough.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

A PROTEST.

The President vetoed a bill recently because its grammar was faulty.

'Tis the voice of the statesman; just hark to his clamor;
Look a' this, what the newspaper spills;
Us members of Congress has got to learn grammar,
Or Woodrow will veto our bills.
No matter how good is said bills for the nation,
He says he will turn 'em all down,
Unless they've got in what he calls conjugation,
An' the adverb agrees with the noun.

Now how can a fellow like I get elected,
In a district where grammar is nix,
And a guy ain't supposed, not even expected,
To know no rhetorical tricks?
Old Lodge can converse like the colleges teaches,
But say, it is different with me!
If I was to pull that "to-whom" stuff in speeches,
I would not be no Congressman. See?

Tim Sullivan wasn't no college professor,
But you notice he never was beat.
His gang never tried for to pick his successor
As long as he wanted his seat.
But if Tim had have talked these here tenses and cases,
Addressing a meeting some night,
And you could of looked at his followers' faces,
You'd seen something doing, all right.

I've drawed lots of bills for the good of my city
And nobody's lifted a hammer;
They passed just as soon as they left the committee
In spite of their help-wanted grammar.
And if Woodrow is going to call for declension,
A member of Tammany Hall,
Whose monicker's one that I needn't to mention,
Will get out of Congress—that's all.

Let the Wedding Bells Ring Out

Our Epicurean Help.

Kitchen Caller: The folks here live pretty high, don't they?

Cook: Oh, yes, I gave them to understand they'd have to if they wanted to keep me.—Boston Transcript.

A Good One.

Bacon: Why, that fellow never has a good word for anyone.

Egbert: Oh, I don't know about that. He said today you were eleemosynary. Now, that's a pretty good word, I think.—Yonkers Statesman.

A CHANGE OF BASE

What the Juvenile Mastodons thought was going to be some game turned out to be a case of "indoor baseball."
